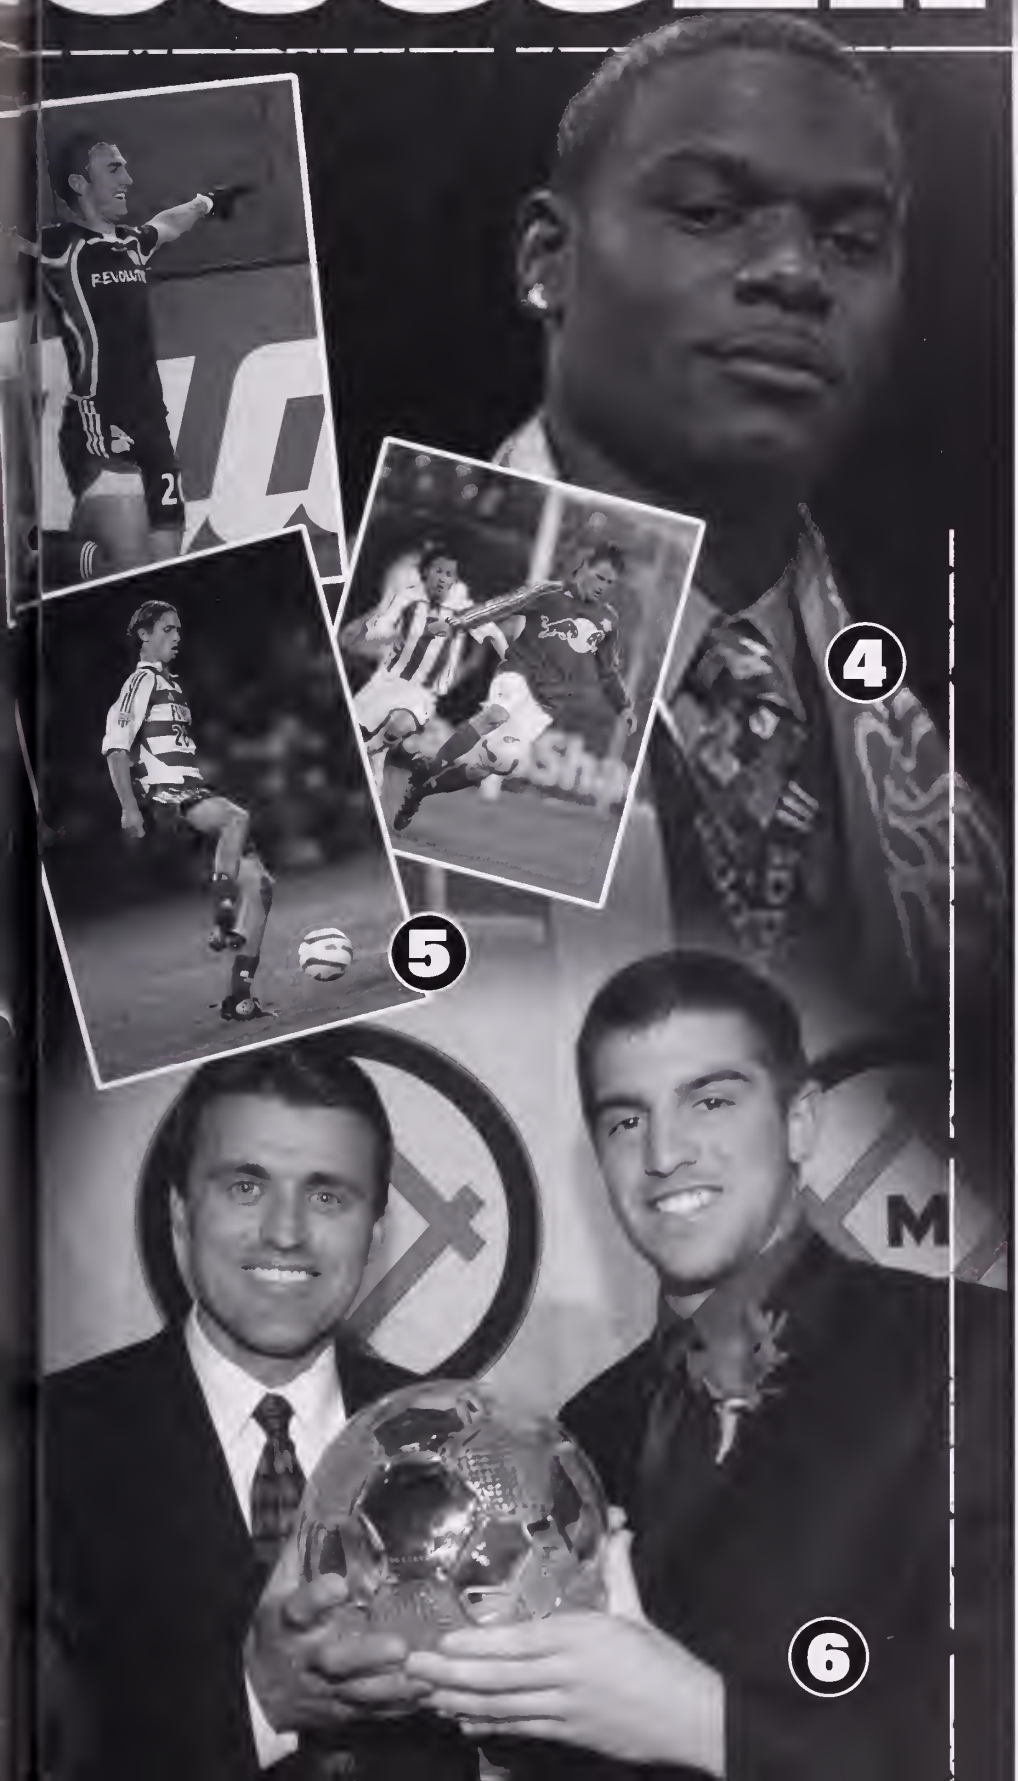
2 NCAA TITLES • 10 FINAL FOURS

SOCCER



PLAYING FOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

1 :: In 2005, Maryland won its first NCAA Championship since 1968. The Maryland men's soccer team's ascent to the title was not a meteoric rise, a quick trip to the top of the mountain. It was a long road that was sprinkled with moments of brilliance and disappointment, but always total commitment to each other and a goal. The Terp program was not validated with a national championship, but only reinforced its position among the nation's elite.

RECORD ATTENDANCE

2 :: Maryland drew over 40,000 fans for the first time in history in 2006, the second highest total in the NCAA. The Terps were also third in the nation in average attendance at 2,727 per game.

A total of 5,022 fans came out to Ludwig Field on September 7, 2007 when the Terps took on rival West Virginia. It was the fifth-largest crowd in Maryland history as the sides treated College Park and a national television audience on CSTV to an overtime affair.

WINNING TRADITION

3 :: Sasho Cirovski, now in his 16th season at the helm at Maryland, has built one of the nation's premier soccer programs:

- 102 wins over the past six seasons is the most in the country
- Only team in the country to have been seeded in the last six NCAA Tournaments and reach the third round or better
- Advanced to the College Cup 10 times, including four of the last six years
- Advanced to the NCAA Tournament 27 times, including 13 of the last 14 seasons
- 14-straight winning seasons

TOP PICKS

4 :: Maurice Edu became the second Maryland player to be drafted No. 1 overall in the MLS SuperDraft when Toronto FC tabbed him as the top pick in 2007. Chris Seitz was drafted fourth by Real Salt Lake, which is just the fourth time in MLS history that two student-athletes from the same school were selected in the top five.

TERPS IN THE MLS

- Taylor Twellman, the 2005 Honda MVP and Budweiser Golden Boot winner
- Clarence Goodson, who was with FC Dallas, recently signed a contracr with IK Start in Norway
- Seth Stammler, starting midfielder for New York Red Bulls

TERPS RECOGNIZED

6 :: Jason Garey became the program's first winner of the MAC Hermann Trophy in 2005.

- Thirty-two players have been named NSCAA All-Americans.
- Since 1995, 10 players have finished in the top 15 in voting for the MAC Hermann Trophy.
- The Terps had four players honored by the ACC in 2007, including a first team pick and the Defensive Player of the Year (Omar Gonzalez) for the second-straight season.

CARY, N.C. // Sasho Cirovski's daughters understood. They understood how disappointing the previous three trips to the College Cup had been for their father, Maryland's soccer coach for 13 seasons, and how much winning would mean to him this time. So before Cirovski kissed them good-bye this week, 11-year-old Hailey, 9 year-old Karli and 3 year-old Ellie each wrote him a note.

I know this is a lucky year, Hailey Cirovski wrote, carefully putting her message on red construction paper with a marker. The coach was so moved he tucked all three notes in his pocket, then left them there, hoping that maybe, just maybe, his girls were right.

2005 :: TITLE TERPS

• The Terps started the season slowly at 5-3-0, but Maryland went 10-0-1 in its next 11 matches and ultimately finished with a regular season record of 14-3-1.

• Maryland defeated Wake Forest in the first round of the ACC Championship, but lost to eventual champion Duke in the semifinals.

• For their efforts, the Terps were rewarded with the No. 1 overall seed in the NCAA Tournament.

• Maryland faced Brown in the second round of the tournament and took a 1-0 win over the Bears. Marc Burch scored in the 26th minute for the game-winner as the Maryland defense held the Bears to just four total shots in the match.

• The Terps had to get past St. John's in the third round, a team they had faced the past two years in the NCAA Tournament with each team taking a victory.

• Maryland handled the Red Storm this time, winning a 3-1 decision to advance to the quarterfinals. Stephen King recorded two goals in the win and Robbie Rogers recorded a goal and an assist. Burch dished out two assists in the win while Chris Seitz was credited with six saves.

• The Terps had to face Akron in the quarterfinals in order to advance to their fourth-straight College Cup appearance. The Zips were the No. 8 seed and spent much of the season as the top team in the nation.

• Kenney Bertz struck first for the Terps in the 21st minute, but Akron responded before halftime with a goal of its own in the 44th minute.

• The teams traded quality chances in the second half and through two overtime periods, but the match would have to be decided by penalty kicks.

• Seitz forced two misses, including one save, and Burch converted the winning PK as the Terps moved on with a 4-1 win in the shootout.

• Maryland faced SMU in the College Cup for a chance to play for the national title and Maryland would easily get past the Mustangs, 4-1. Graham Zusi struck first in the 44th minute and Jason Garey scored twice within 15 seconds in the 47th minute, an NCAA Tournament record, to seal the win. King also scored for the Terps.

• In the NCAA title game, No. 1 Maryland faced No. 2 New Mexico for the first time. In the 31st minute, Burch took a free kick from 25 yards out and blasted it towards goal. The shot was redirected by New Mexico's wall and found the back of the net.

• In the 50th minute, the Lobos were awarded a penalty kick after a handball in the box. Seitz got a beat on Andrew Boyens blast to the right and made the stop, then forced the rebound to miss high. That was the last quality chance New Mexico got as the Terps won their first national championship since 1968.

"We have a saying in our locker room that says, 'The greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall.' I am very proud of the persistence our program has shown to be here in this position today." – Sasho Cirovski in the post-game press conference after Maryland's 1-0 win over New Mexico for the NCAA title.

FROM MARYLAND TO MAJOR LEAG

"The University of Maryland and Sasho Cirovski provided an excellent platform for me to raise my game and be a part of a first-class program, both athletically and academically."

TAYLOR TWELLMAN
MARYLAND (1998-1999)

"The blend of academics and athletics at Maryland creates an environment conducive for developing as both a person and a player. Sasho and the other coaches helped prepare me not only for the professional ranks, but life in general. The commitment to excellence shines through with blinding radiance."

ABE THOMPSON

"Joining the Maryland soccer family was the best decision that I have ever made. Sasho's guidance and passion for excellence created the perfect environment for me to reach my potential in all areas. I am forever thankful to the Maryland staff and cherish my experiences in College Park."

STEPHEN KING
MARYLAND (2004-2007)

"I knew Sash was fully committed to retaining a high level of success while providing the facilities and training environment necessary to further players' careers in the professional ranks. Also, Maryland as a school has become highly respected academically, which is important as student-athletes look to further their lives outside of soccer."

SETH STAMMLER
MARYLAND (2000-2003)

"The Maryland Soccer program and the environment Sasho has created there is by far the best in college soccer. It was the perfect step and platform for me and I owe a great deal of my development to Sasho, the coaching staff, and the University."

MAURICE EDU
MARYLAND (2004-2006)

"Maryland is by far the best soccer program in the country. My decision to come to Maryland was the best decision of my life. I owe a tremendous amount of thanks to my coaches - Rob [Vartughian], Russell [Payne] and especially Sasho - for not only my development, but also for my incredible experience as a Terp."

"My college experience was the exact step that I needed to take to get to the professional level. I owe a lot to Sasho, the program and the guys around me."

LEO CULLEN
MARYLAND (1995-1997)

"At Maryland, I was given the opportunity to reach my potential both on the field and off the field. It was a tremendous feeling to help bring a national title to College Park, and I know with Sasho's guidance and the support from the fans that the Terps will annually be in a position to win it all."

JASON GAREY
MARYLAND (2002-2005)

"My time at Maryland, both academically and athletically, was the most influential experience of my life. Sasho and the rest of the coaching staff not only helped me succeed athletically but also taught me how to be successful in every aspect of my life."

MICHAEL DELLO-RUSSO
MARYLAND (2001-2005)

"The University of Maryland promotes a disciplined soccer environment while guiding its student-athletes to becoming well-rounded individuals who are ready for the future. Sasho Cirovski - along with the rest of the coaching staff – have and will always be the people I trust the most in the soccer world. My time at Maryland was very special to me and my family and I will always remember it."

MARYLAND SOCCER: A SPECTATOR SPORT!

The Maryland men's soccer team has increasingly attracted more and more fans to Ludwig Field season after season.In 2006, the team set a school record with over 40,000 fans, a total that was second-best in the country. The Terps success and winning ways are a major factor in packing the stands, but there is more to the team's increasing popularity than just wins and losses. The electric atmosphere features one of the most vocal and supportive student groups in the country lurking behind the opponents' goal: The Crew. In addition, the intimacy of Ludwig Field puts fans right in the middle of the action. And the Terps play an attacking, offensive brand of soccer that delivers the excitement that only a goal can provide. All of this has helped make a Maryland men's soccer game a popular, exciting and unique fan experience.

TOP FIVE CROWDS IN LUDWIG FIELD HISTORY

Date	Opponent	Attendance
Sept. 29, 2006	Duke	6,489
Oct. 14, 2006	Boston College	6,214
Oct. 29, 2005	Indiana	6,203
Sept. 5, 2003	UCLA	6,143
Sept. 7, 2007	West Virginia	5,022

Since its opening in 1995, state-of-the-art Ludwig Field has been the home of the Terrapin men's and women's soccer teams as well as playing host to numerous other local soccer events throughout the past 12 years.

Due to the expanding horizon of Terrapin soccer and the growing interest in its achievement on the field, the University of Maryland embarked on a project that would bring the level of the facility on par with the excellence of the programs that played there.

The $2.5 million facility was dedicated on Sept. 16, 1995, and is surely a cornerstone of collegiate soccer throughout the nation.

The 6,000-seat facility is an integral part of the more than $40 million of new construction for Maryland athletics. The complex is fully lighted with an all-weather track and sodded Bermuda grass playing field. In 2004, a new state-of-the-art scoreboard with in-game statistics and lively graphics was installed. In 2008, an enclosed press box was installed for the media and an additional 1,500 seats were added to improve the facility's capacity from 4,500 to 6,000.

The permanent lights allow for commonly scheduled night games. The lights also allow Maryland the ability to host NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference tournaments and nationally televised games. Since its opening, Ludwig Field has played host to 25 NCAA Tournament games, including 11 Maryland wins in the tournament in the last six years. Those wins allowed the Terps to make four consecutive College Cup appearances from 2002-05.

Fans came out to watch Maryland in record numbers over the past few seasons. In 2006, the Terps set a school record in attendance with over 40,000 people. The total ranked second in the NCAA, and the Terps average attendance of 2,727 ranked third in the country. Highlighting the home season in 2006 was a record crowd of 6,489 to see Maryland play Duke. In addition, two more home dates in 2006 set records. A crowd of 6,214 came out to watch Boston College in their first ever match in College Park which ranks second and NC State drew 4,565 which is now sixth. A total of 5,022 spectators came out in 2007 to watch the Terps battle rival West Virginia which ranks fifth. In 2005, Maryland set a record as over 33,000 fans came out to watch the Terps play highlighted by the then-record of 6,203 that came out to watch the Terps take on Indiana. In 2004, the Terps had three crowds of over 3,200 in games against St. John's (one regular season, one postseason) and Duke. In 2003, nearly 30,000 people came to watch the Terps play, the second-highest total in the nation.

In addition to the collegiate games played at Ludwig Field, the complex has played host to numerous U.S. and professional soccer matches, as well. Among the teams who have used Ludwig Field as their home-away-from-home are the 2000 U.S. Women's National Team and the WUSA's own Washington Freedom.

In addition to the high-level of competition created by the excellent playing surface at Ludwig Field, the complex was also created with the local soccer fan very much in mind. The field is located directly adjacent to Parking Lot 1 and close to the University Boulevard entrance.

Numerous Terrapin All-Americans have called the field home, with Maryland fighting its way to an 121-32-11 record on its home field.

The facility is named after lifetime Terrapin friends Bob and Louise Ludwig.

SASHO CIROVSKI

16TH SEASON AT MARYLAND • 18TH SEASON OVERALL
WISCONSIN-MILWAUKEE, '85

Upon his arrival in College Park in 1993, Sasho Cirovski has transformed Maryland into a national soccer power, leading the Terps to the 2005 NCAA title, five College Cup appearances, and two ACC titles, all the while producing numerous top-level professional players. After 15 seasons at Maryland, the 2005 NSCAA National Coach of the Year has instilled his passion for excellence in a soccer program that expects to compete for the national title every season.

During his tenure with the Terps, Maryland has been to the NCAA Tournament 13 times, advancing to the College Cup in five of those years, including four straight appearances from 2002-05, culminating in the NCAA title in 2005. The Terps have also captured two ACC Tournament titles (1996 and 2002) and two ACC regular season titles (2003 and 2005) during his stay in College Park. His overall record, which includes two seasons at Hartford, stands at 239-111-26, and his record at Maryland is an impressive 213-99-20.

For the second-straight season, Cirovski's Terps had their share of critics in the preseason as Maryland lost two of the top players in the nation. Maurice Edu, a junior midfielder, was the No. 1 overall pick in the MLS SuperDraft on January 12, 2007. He was the second Maryland player to ever be taken with the first pick. Sophomore keeper Chris Seitz also decided to turn to the professional ranks and was chosen No. 4 overall in the SuperDraft. It marked just the fourth time in MLS SuperDraft history that two student-athletes from the same school were selected in the top five.

Even with the loss of arguably the best midfielder and goalkeeper in the country, the Terps finished 10-6-5 and earned a seed in the NCAA Tournament for the sixth-straight season. Maryland is the only team in the nation that can claim that feat. The Terps advanced to the third round of the championship and again, is the only program in the country to advance to at least the third round in the last six years.

Despite losing six student-athletes from the national championship team in 2005, Cirovski led the Terps back to the NCAA Tournament in 2006, marking the sixth-straight season that Maryland advanced to the postseason. The Terps advanced to the Sweet Sixteen and finished the season with a 16-5-1 record.

The 2005 championship run did not mark the arrival of the Maryland program, but helped validate its place alongside the nation's elite. In addition to a fourth-straight College Cup appearance, the Terps won the ACC regular season title and posted a 19-4-2 mark. In addition, Cirovski helped mentor Maryland's first Hermann Trophy winner in Jason Garey, who left Maryland as the school's all-time leader in goals (60) and points (140) and was the third pick in the MLS SuperDraft. Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year for the second time of his career, and was the NSCAA National Coach of the Year for the first time in his career as the Terps brought home their first national title in soccer since 1968.

Under Cirovski's guidance, the Terps have brought fans out to Ludwig Field in record numbers. For the fourth straight season, Maryland ranked No. 2 in the country in total attendance, and the 5,022 fans that watched the Terps face West Virginia was the fifth-largest crowd ever at Ludwig Field. Cirovski's efforts to build a winning team that plays an exciting brand of soccer are only matched by his efforts to build Ludwig Field into one of the top soccer venues in the country.

In addition to his leadership on the sidelines, Cirovski is also in his fifth season as a leader in college soccer as the chairman of the men's soccer NSCAA Division I committee. As chairman, Cirovski was the architect in creating the position of NSCAA Program Director, a major triumph for the sport. This position is the singular voice of college soccer in dealing with NCAA legislative issues, overseeing College Cups and elevating the significance and status of the sport. He was also vital in brokering the television partnership between Fox Soccer Channel and the NSCAA,

"Sasho has not only a vision and a passion to improv and promote college soccer but he has the knowledg and the dedication to pursue new ideas," North Carolin head coach Elmar Bolowich said. "His enthusiasm fc our sport is infectious and it will unite Division I colleg coaches to pursue our objectives and achieve them

Cirovski has brought success to every program he has been part of. After helping his alma mater, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, to it first NCAA Tournament appearance in a decade as an assistar coach under Bob Gansler, he assumed the top spot at Hartfor in 1991. In his two seasons with the Hawks, he took the team t back-to-back 13-6-3 records and consecutive NCAA Tournamer appearances for the first time in school history. He then came t Maryland in 1993 to help resurrect a once-proud program tha had been to only one NCAA Tournament in the last 16 years

Cirovski has since built Maryland into one of th top programs in the nation and has given the Terp some of the finest seasons in school history. Here is look at the year-by-year highlights of the Cirovski Era

1994: In just his second season with the Terps, Marylan went to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, an finished with a 14-6-1 record. A 4-3 first-round NCAA win ove Georgetown was the program's first since 1969, and marke the first time since 1986 that Maryland received an invitation t the Big Dance. The Terps' improvement from a 3-14-1 record during Cirovski's first year to a 14-6-1 record marked the greatest single-season turnaround in the 44-year history of the ACC.

1995: Maryland again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The Terrapins finished second in the ACC with a 4-1-1 mark, and ended the year ranked as high as No. 15 by Soccer America.

1996: Maryland made history when it won the 1996 ACC Championship, the first-ever tournament championship in the program's history. The Terps again advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament before falling to William & Mary.

1997: After a fourth-place regular-season finish, the Terps again advanced to the ACC championship game before falling to Virginia. Maryland advanced to the NCAA second round for the fourth consecutive season, defeating Rutgers (1-0) in the first round before losing to American, 1-0. The Terps finished 1997 with a record of 16-6-1, a school record for wins in a season, and finished ranked No. 10 in the nation.

1998: Another milestone was reached on Jan. 31, 1998, when Leo Cullen was selected as the No. 1 draft pick by the Miami Fusion in the Major League Soccer collegiate draft. A Hermann and Missouri Athletic Club award finalist in 1996 and 1997, Cullen was also selected as the 1997 ACC Player of the Year, an NSCAA first-team All-American and Collegiate MVP by Soccer America.

1998: Cirovski attracted the nation's top recruiting class to College Park before the 1998 season, and led by National Freshman of the Year Taylor Twellman, and Maryland's all-time career assist leader, Keith Beach, the Terrapins finished the regular season 12-6. The Terps made their fifth straight NCAA tournament run, advancing all the way to their first national semifinal appearance since 1969.

1999: The 1999 season saw Cirovski's team spend two weeks in the No. 1 slot in the Soccer America poll for the first time in school history. The Terps also ended the regular season with 14 wins, tying a program record for most wins in a regular season. Receiving its sixth straight NCAA bid, No. 6-seed Maryland was defeated by St. John's on its home field with a 1-0 loss in the 89th minute to bring its season to an end.

1999: Terrapin sophomores Dan Califf and Taylor Twellman both opted to explore their options in the professional ranks with Califf being selected in the first round by the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS and Twellman signing with the 1860 Munich of the German Bundesliga, adding to Cirovski's list of former Terps currently enjoying successful professional careers. Twellman has since moved to MLS, earned a spot as an all-star starter in 2002, and led the league in points and goals per game in 2003.

2001: After a 10-9 record in 2000, the Terps returned to the NCAA Tournament again in 2001 for Cirovski's seventh NCAA appearance at Maryland. The Terrapins advanced to the second round after defeating Notre Dame before losing in overtime to Loyola 1-0 in the second round. The team was back in the Top 25 at the end of the year, finishing 25th in the NSCAA's final poll.

2002: Maryland fell just short of the NCAA title losing in the Final Four and finished third in the NSCAA/adidas final poll. The Terps had made their second College Cup appearance in four years and captured the school's second ACC Tournament title in addition to leading Terps to a program-best 20 wins.

2003: Cirovski was named the ACC Coach of the Year in helping guide Maryland to a 20-3-1 record, its first No. 1 ranking in the NSCAA poll, a second consecutive Final Four appearance and the ACC regular season crown. The 20 wins matched the school record set in 2002, and four Terp players were selected in the first two rounds of the MLS draft, more than any other team in the nation.

2004: The Terps continued to make their mark on the national scene, advancing to the College Cup for the third straight season and posting a 17-6-2 record. He helped mentor two Hermann Trophy semifinalists in forwards Abe Thompson and Jason Garey as Maryland set the school record for goals in a season with 62.

2005: Cirovski led Maryland to the national championship, the second in school history, with a 1-0 win against New Mexico in the title game. Senior Jason Garey, who left the school as the all-time leader in goals and points, was the school's first recipient of the Hermann Trophy, awarded to the nation's best player. He was selected third overall in the MLS SuperDraft.

2006: Despite losing five starters from the 2005 national championship team, the Terps remained a fixture on the national scene and finished the season with a 16-5-1 record and advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament. Maryland saw unprecedented success in the MLS SuperDraft as Maurice Edu and Chris Seitz were taken No. 1 and No. 4 overall, respectively.

2007: Maryland lost two of the top players in the country who left early for the MLS, but the Terps still went 10-6-5 and earned the 13th seed in the NCAA Tournament. Maryland is the only team in the country to have been seeded and to reach at least the third round in each of the past six seasons.

Achieving a level of excellence again at Maryland, Cirovski has added the respect of more people than ever for the Terrapins. He has combined an unparalleled ability to motivate and teach with exceptional mastery of technique to become one of the most talented and versatile soccer coaches in the nation. And whether it's on the field or in the classroom, Cirovski's student-athletes give it all they've got, and it shows.

In addition to the accomplishments of his 15-year coaching career with the Terps, Cirovski was also a standout student-athlete himself. He began his career at Wisconsin-Milwaukee where he was a four-year letterwinner. As a senior, he won the Herman Kluge Award for Male Athlete of the Year, and, in 1998, he was inducted into the UWM Athletic Hall of Fame. He earned his bachelor's degree in 1985 and his master's in 1989. He then spent parts of three seasons as a professional player and coach with the teams in the Canadian Soccer League, and the National Professional Soccer League. His first taste of coaching came in 1987 in the Canadian Soccer League.

Cirovski is entering his 17th year of coaching overall, and holds an "A" coaching license from the U.S. Soccer Federation, as well as an Advanced National Diploma from the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. During the summer of 1997, he served as the assistant coach of the JVC U-17 World Youth Championship team, which played against Argentina, Uruguay, Egypt and two domestic camps. The team competed at the U-17 World Cup Championship in Egypt held in September of 1997. Cirovski also worked as an assistant coach for the U.S. U-20 National Team.

Cirovski's wife, the former Shannon Higgins, played collegiate soccer at North Carolina and entered the National Soccer Hall of Fame in the fall of 2002. The couple has three daughters, 14-year-old Hailey, Karli, who turned 12 in August, and Ellie, who turned six on July 15.

COACHING STAFF

ROB VARTUGHIAN

ASSISTANT COACH
ST. BONAVENTURE, '00
SIXTH SEASON

In his five seasons with the Terps, Rob Vartughian has known nothing but success at the University of Maryland with five-straight NCAA appearances, three-consecutive College Cups, and the 2005 NCAA title. Beginning his sixth season as an assistant coach, Vartughian works primarily with the goalkeepers, but is also heavily involved in all aspects of the program.

Vartughian helped the progression of goalkeeper Chris Seitz, as Seitz became the first freshman to lead his team to an NCAA title since Brad Friedel did it in 1990. Seitz was the Defensive MVP at the College Cup, as well as being named to the All-ACC second team and numerous Freshman All-America teams.

In 2006, Vartughian mentored Seitz to even more honors as he was a Soccer America MVP, ACC Defensive Player of the Year, and an NSCAA All-American. Seitz, who holds the Maryland record with a 0.77 career goals-against average, was drafted No. 4 overall in the MLS SuperDraft by Real Salt Lake.

In four of his five seasons with the Terps, Vartughian has helped Terp goalkeepers earn All-ACC honors. Before Seitz, Vartughian guided Noah Palmer to one of the finest careers for a goalkeeper in Maryland history. Palmer recorded the lowest goals-against average in a season for a Terp goalkeeper in school history (0.56) and left Maryland with a school-record 34 career shutouts.

In the spring of 2007, Vartughian served as the goalkeeper coach for the United States U-23 Olympic Team that played against the Japanese U-23 team in Japan in preparation for qualifying leading up to the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing. Most recently, he served as an assistant coach for the U-15 Boys National Team that traveled to Spain for four international friendlies in May of 2008. Vartughian, a US Soccer Federation B-license Coach, has also served as the head coach for the Maryland Boys (1990s) ODP team that won the national championship in 2006.

A collegiate keeper for St. Bonaventure from 1996-99 and then for Wake Forest in 2000, Vartughian came to College Park after spending two years as an assistant coach for Penn. While at Penn, he acted as both the men's and women's goalkeeping instructor, where his keepers earned All-American and Ivy League Player of the Year accolades, while both men's and women's teams went on to Ivy League titles in 2001 and 2002.

Vartughian was a Bonnie from 1996-99 and graduated in 2000 with a bachelor of science in accounting and finance before heading to Wake Forest to begin graduate work in education. During his time at St. Bonaventure, he set the Bonnie record for shutouts in a single season and career goals-against average. He finished his career as the starting goalkeeper at Wake Forest where he made 72 saves on the year.

Vartughian's playing career extended past college taking him to the Philadelphia Kixx of the Major Indoor Soccer League and both the Hampton Roads Mariners and Charleston Battery of the A-League teams. He spent 2001 with the South Jersey Barons Division III United Soccer League team. His other coaching experience includes being the director of goalkeeper training at the Elite 300 Soccer Academy.

RUSSELL PAYNE

ASSISTANT COACH
MARYLAND, '98
FIFTH SEASON

Former Terrapin standout Russell Payne is in his fourth seasc as an assistant coach in College Park. Payne, who was Sash Cirovski's first blue-chip recruit and was a four-year starter in go for the Terrapins, is back coaching at his alma mater after spendir several seasons playing in Major League Soccer and coaching Europe.

In his four seasons on the sideline with the Terps, Payne has helped lead Maryland to a 5 15-4 record, the ACC regular season title in 2005 and its first NCAA title since 1968. During h four years in College Park, Payne has coached the Terps to an NCAA appearance each seasc while mentoring 12 All-ACC selections, seven All Americans, four Academic All Americans an seven MLS SuperDraft picks, including No. 1 overall selections Leo Cullen and current U-23 an full national team player Maurice Edu.

For the past two years, Payne has served as an assistant coach with the United States U 20 Men's National team. Over the last two U-20 cycles Payne has compiled a record of 8-3- including strong finishes at the 2006 and 2008 Milk Cup in Northern Ireland as well as internationa friendlies in its preparation for the FIFA U-20 World Cup in Canada in 2007. On that team, Payne coached recent Maryland standouts Chris Seitz (Real Salt Lake, MLS) and Robbie Rogers (Columbus, MLS).

Payne has also served as staff coach with the Maryland State Olympic development programs 1993 and 1995 age groups.Payne, a B-license US Soccer Federation coach, came to Maryland after playing professionally with Shamrock Rovers and Derry City (Ireland), SV Elversberg Football Club (Germany), and AZ Alkmaar (Netherlands). With Derry City, Payne was the 2001 Goalkeeper of the Year in the Eircom Irish Premier League. While playing for Derry City and SV Elversberg, the Columbia, Md., native also coached the U-16 and U-18 academy goalkeepers.

Payne, who also spent time with Major League Soccer's DC United, Colorado Rapids and N Metrostars(Redbull), began his collegiate coaching career as a volunteer assistant at Georg Washington in 1997-98 as the goalkeeper coach under Shannon Higgins-Cirovski and a a graduate assistant goalkeeper coach with the Terp men in 1997. A four-year starter for th Terps (1993-96), Payne was an All-ACC selection as a sophomore and led the Atlantic Coas Conference in goals-against average as a senior with a 0.88 mark. He recorded 22.5 shutout during his four seasons and recorded 340 saves in his career in helping Maryland to thre straight NCAA Tournament appearances. He also helped lead Maryland to its first-ever AC Tournament championship in 1996. As a student-athlete at Maryland, Payne was the recipient c the prestigious Benjamen Banneker Scholarship for science and math.

He graduated from Maryland in 1998 from Maryland with a degree in Biology.Payne and hi wife, Vanessa, reside in Washington, D.C.

SEASON OUTLOOK

TALENTED TERPS LOOK TO RETURN TO COLLEGE CUP

Talented and hungry. Experienced and youthful.

There's a lot for head coach Sasho Cirovski to like about his University of Maryland men's soccer team for 2008. The Terrapins will go into the season with a number of veterans who have experienced success before, blending in a promising freshman class tabbed by CollegeSoccerNews.com as the best group of newcomers in the country.

The depth created by strong competition at a number of positions and the leadership of five seniors gives Maryland's veteran coach great reason for optimism heading into his 16th year at the school.

"This is the most experienced squad we will have returned since the 2005 season," Cirovski said, noting the year Maryland won the NCAA National Championship. "It's a very talented and hungry group.

"I feel like we'll have more competition at every position. We have some players who've gained experience due to the departures to the pros and injuries we've had the last two years. I think the last couple years have left our players wanting more. Hopefully that hunger and determination will parlay to success.

"We've got very good balance," said Cirovski. "The back line returns virtually intact, we're stronger in goal, we return two or three midfielders and the entire forward line is back.

"We've also added an incredibly talented freshman class. The internal competition for spots and playing time will be tougher, which will be both a blessing and a challenge for the coaches."

That group will be counted on to replace All-American and Hermann Trophy semifinalist Stephen King, who finished his four-year career as the all-time leader in games started. King led the Atlantic Coast Conference and was second in the nation last season with 13 assists.

Cirovski noted two areas of targeted improvement that are critical for Maryland to improve on its 10-6-5 mark from a year ago.

"First, we need to stay healthy in key areas," he said. "Second, we need to find at least one big-time goal-scoring threat who can win games for us. We need someone who can score goals out of nothing. It's always nice to have a consistent game-winner."

The culture of success and chemistry both within the team and between the team and its fans are other consistent advantages that Maryland holds over every team in the nation. The Terrapins, who closed the regular season last year with a 10-game unbeaten string, come into the new year having reached the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament in six straight years.

GOALKEEPERS

Will Swaim started 12 games for the Terps as a freshman a year ago and will be involved in a three-way battle for playing time this season. Swaim finished with four shutouts in his 12 starts, allowing just 12 goals and playing to a 0.89 goals-against average.

"Will has tremendous self-confidence and seems to rise to the challenge," said Cirovski. "He's courageous and is maturing into a very confident goalkeeper. He's a good shot-stopper and reads the game well."

Freshman Zac MacMath was the top goalkeeper in the nation coming out of high school, according to Cirovski, and will be part of the battle for playing time. MacMath was the national team goalkeeper for the U.S. Under-17 team.

"Technically, he's highly advanced for his age," said Cirovski. "He's very sharp and has great distribution skills. He's mature beyond his years."

Aaron Chinn is one of five seniors on the Maryland roster and has improved in each of his four seasons, according to Cirovski, who says Chinn is a "great role model and a great teammate."

DEFENSE

Maryland returns three starters from a group that allowed just over one goal per game and posted six shutouts in 21 games. The back line includes 2007 ACC Defensive Player of the Year Omar Gonzalez, Rich Costanzo and A.J. Delagarza, a veteran trio which combined for 61 starts in 2007.

"The back line should be a strength, we have three experienced starters," said Cirovski. "One question in the preseason will be who plays left back, or do we move Delagarza there. Sean Flatley and Kevin Tangney could compete for starting time at either center back or left back."

Will Swaim

Omar Gonzalez

Rich Costanzo

A.J. Delagarza

Jeremy Hall

Graham Zusi

Gonzalez was a third-team All-American selection by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America a year ago and was an All-ACC pick. Costanzo notched four assists last year and is one of the five seniors on this year's squad. Delagarza is a tough-minded, competitive defender who helps anchor the group.

Cirovski will also look at a configuration that has returning Rodney Wallace at either left back or at left midfield.

Juniors Kwame Darko and Greg Young will compete for time at an outside back position, along with one or two of the talented group of freshmen.

MIDFIELDERS

Wallace was a first-team selection on Soccer America's All-Freshman Team a year ago and will open on the left side. He was one of four Terrapins who started all 21 games a year ago and his seven goals were second on the team.

Jeremy Hall is expected to start on the right side and returns off a 14-point season in which he earned second team All-ACC honors. Hall, now a junior, was the ACC's Freshman of the Year in 2006.

Doug Rodkey, a junior who appeared in 19 games last year, will contribute as a wide midfielder, while Drew Yates, who led Maryland with eight goals on only 20 shots in 2007, can play at any midfield spot.

Senior Michael Marchiano is a returning captain and will play in a defensive midfield role. Cirovski expects some competition for playing time between freshman Matt Kassel and Tangney. Billy Cortes had a pair of goals last year as a forward and will figure into the mix at outside midfield. Kaoru Forbess is a talented freshman that is recovering from a back injury and his progress will determine his playing time.

With tremendous depth and experience in the midfield, Cirovski and his staff could present a number of different lineups and scenarios.

"We're going into this season very open-minded," he said. "We could play with three, four or five midfielders. We might look at some alternatives."

FORWARDS

Graham Zusi was Maryland's leading scorer last year with 18 points, and also topped the offense with 49 shots. He is another of Maryland's five seniors this year.

"Graham started the season well and finished the season well last year," Cirovski said. "He's finally embraced everything we've asked him to do in the off-season. He's an extremely talented player and is highly motivated going into his senior year."

Jason Herrick did not play last year and is coming off two knee injuries. He scored 13 points in 17 games as a freshman for the Terps in 2006.

Casey Townsend is one of the freshmen who may make an instant impact on the Terrapins' offense this season. He played on the U.S. Under-20 Team in the Mill Cup competition. Townsend arrived on campus in time for spring drills and "got better every game in the spring," according to Cirovski. Townsend scored in three of Maryland's five spring games.

Freshmen Alex Lee, Conor O'Leary and Matt Oduaran are also expected to compete for time at either forward or midfielder.

SCHEDULE

Maryland's schedule continues to be one of the toughest in the nation and will open with a trip to Los Angeles for a nationally televised matchup with UCLA and a battle with California.

The Terrapins will face eight teams that participated in the 2007 NCAA Tournament and will again battle in the always-tough Atlantic Coast Conference, noted as the toughest league in the nation. The ACC finished the 2007 season with three teams in the top eight and six of the nine league teams ranked in the top-25 in the final NSCAA poll.

"The schedule is tough, it's typical of a Maryland soccer schedule," said Cirovski. "Last year we got off to a slow start, so we'll have to guard against that."

Maryland returns home for seven straight games after the L.A. trip, but then faces difficult road games in October with Clemson, Virginia Tech and West Virginia.

"It's a grueling schedule, but it's also very exciting," said Cirovski. "On any given day, if we're not at our best, we're going to lose. That's what we need to prepare for the ACC and NCAA Tournament.

The Terrapins' first home game is Sept. 5 against Hartford. Maryland's first match in the ACC is against defending regular-season champion Boston College on Sept. 12 at Ludwig Field.

2007 SEASON REVIEW

• Maryland lost two of the top players in the country to the MLS in Maurice Edu and Chris Seitz, but the Terps still advanced to the third round of the NCAA Tournament.

• After starting the season 3-4-1, the Terps closed out the regular season with a 10-game unbeaten streak, going 7-0-3 in that stretch to finish 10-4-4.

• Maryland made its sixth appearance in the Sweet Sixteen and is the only team in the country to advance that far in the NCAA Tournament the last six seasons.

• The Terps earned the 13th seed in the NCAA Tournament and is the only team in the nation to be seeded in the postseason in each of the last six seasons.

• Stephen King wrapped up his career with a season for the record books as he assisted on 13 goals which was the second most in a single season at Maryland.

• His 33 career assists rank second all-time at Maryland while his 93 points sixth.

• King started in every game Maryland played in his four seasons, earning a spot in the starting 11 a Terps' record 93 times.

• King was named an NSCAA/adidas All-American, an ESPN The Magazine Academic All-America First Team selection, and the ACC Men's Soccer Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

• He was drafted by the Chicago Fire in the third round of the MLS SuperDraft.

• Omar Gonzalez, Jeremy Hall, and King were each named All-ACC selections while Rodney Wallace was an All-ACC Freshmen Team honoree.

• Gonzalez was also tabbed the 2007 ACC Defensive Player of the Year, marking the second-straight season that a Terp had won the award.

Stephen King

• Maryland went 9-1-1 in matches when it scored first with the only loss coming against Bradley in the third round of the NCAA Tournament.

• Maryland's September 7th meeting with West Virginia at Ludwig Field provided the largest crowd of the season as 5,022 fans turned out. That number is the fifth-highest in Ludwig history.

• Freshman Rodney Wallace was second on the team with seven goals. He had a pair of two-goal games against Villanova (10/16) and NC State (10/27).

• Wallace was the first freshman to have a pair of two-goal games in a season since Stephen King did it in 2004.

• On Saturday, October 27, Maryland made history with its 5-0 win against the Wolfpack. The shutout was the largest margin of victory ever at Ludwig Field against an ACC opponent and was the biggest win in a regular season game inside the conference for head coach Sasho Cirovski.

• The Terps had one of the most memorable Senior Nights ever on November 3 - a 4-1 win. Maryland's three seniors accounted for 10 of the 14 points scored.

• King tied the school record for assists in a game with three. Defender Spencer Allen scored his first goal of the season and second of his career and Aki Kadotani also scored a goal.

• In the 80th minute, junior Graham Zusi was setting up for a free kick on the left side of the box, but head coach Sasho Cirovski called on King to take the shot - which he hit.

• Cirovski said after the game: "They are three great people and you couldn't have scripted this any better. Spencer Allen scored our first goal as a left back, then Aki Kadotani makes a great play, and Stephen King hits a free kick ... It couldn't get any better. Those three kids are really special and tonight was their night. It was a perfect night."

2007 GAME RECAPS

AT INDIANA
1-1

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - The No. 9 Maryland men's soccer team battled No. 7 Indiana in an exciting back-and-forth affair and forced the Hoosiers to a 1-1 draw on August 31 at Jerry Yeagley Field at Armstrong Stadium in the adidas/IU Credit Union Classic. Both teams scored in the first half 1:11 apart from each other and both sides had their chances to notch the golden goal, but the teams settled for the tie.

Junior Graham Zusi recorded the goal for the Terrapins in the 26th minute after Kevin Noschang scored in the 25th for the Hoosiers. Junior Rich Costanzo was credited with the assist as he sent the cross into the box to Zusi. Freshman keeper Will Swaim stopped five shots in goal in his first collegiate start.

Indiana came away with a couple of chances in the first 15 minutes of play as Daniel Kelly got off the first shot on goal of the game 4:13 in, but his attempt was directed right at Swaim who made the easy save. At the 29:30 mark, Kevin Alston was open on the left side and served up a dangerous cross into the box but the Hoosiers were unable to get a foot on the ball.

Maryland got its first quality chance at the 23:35 point in the half when senior Spencer Allen cleared away an Indiana attack. The ball bounced in front of a streaking Zusi with two Hoosier defenders on his tail. The defense applied enough pressure to force Zusi's shot just wide to the right.

The Hoosiers struck first in the 25th minute when Charley Traylor sent in a ball to Brian Ackley. Ackley got a head to the pass and deflected it to Noschang sitting six yards out, who punched in a shot for the 1-0 Indiana lead.

The Terps responded immediately, however, just over a minute later when Costanzo dribbled down the right side of the field. Costanzo got enough space in front of his man to send a cross in that found Zusi in the box, who tucked a shot into the left side netting for the quick equalizer.

Maryland was close to pulling ahead with 10 minutes to go when sophomore Omar Gonzalez sent a ball into the box from the middle of the field. Classmate Jeremy Hall fought a Hoosier defender for position and won, getting his head to the ball. He redirected it to the right post, but Chay Cain made the diving stop to keep the score deadlocked into the half.

Both offenses picked it up a bit in the second half and Indiana recorded the first dangerous opportunity at 36:50 when a good cross was made from the left side to a man open in the box. His shot misfired and the Terps came away unscathed.

Maryland came right back down the field on transition as Zusi found himself in the middle of the box and got off a shot on net. His attempt was saved by Cain but the rebound fell to freshman Rodney Wallace who redirected the ball towards goal. His ball was deflected by Cain and trickled toward the goal line, but an Indiana defender laid out on the ground to stop the ball from crossing over for the line.

At the 28:50 mark, the Hoosiers had three good chances to put the ball in the net but failed to do so. Andy Adlard started the threat with a corner kick that was headed hard towards goal, but a Maryland defender stopped the shot and forced another corner. On the second corner, Adlard sent in another good in-swinger that just missed a good strike from a teammate. Finally, on the ensuing throw in, the Hoosiers had one more shot to take the lead but their shot went just high over the net.

Indiana earned another corner with 1:38 left in the game and got a good chance out of it. The initial cross from the side created no threat, but Brad Ring settled the ball on the right side as a group of Maryland defenders prepared to step in the way. Ring took a shot that made it through the Terp defense but Swaim came up with a big save to force overtime.

Maryland spent most of the first overtime in its offensive half of the field and got a good chance with four minutes to go when Zusi found King with a through ball on the right side. The ball went deep into the zone and King turned and fired when he reached it, but the angle was tough and Cain made the save.

A minute later, the Hoosiers went on the attack and found Noschang on the left side wide open. Noschang fired to the right side, but Swaim came up with a huge fingertip save to keep Indiana from converting the golden goal.

With 1:30 left, Costanzo took a free kick in the midfield after a Hoosier foul. The junior sent the ball into the box and Wallace was able to get a head on it, but his shot went just high.

The second overtime served up less drama as the teams battled in the midfield for most of the time, but the Terps got the best chance for a win. With six minutes left in the game, junior Michael Marchiano dribbled through some traffic on the right side and flipped a pass to King in the box. King headed the ball towards the right side of the goal but his shot hit the post and came back and Indiana was able to get away without any further danger.

VS. NOTRE DAME
3-0

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - Senior Stephen King recorded a goal and an assist as the No. 9 Maryland men's soccer team defeated No. 10 Notre Dame, 3-0, on September 2 in the adidas/IU Credit Union Classic at Jerry Yeagley Field at Armstrong Stadium. The win completes a 1-0-1 weekend for the Terrapins as they were crowned tournament champions. The Terps tied No. 7 Indiana, 1-1, on Friday evening.

Junior Graham Zusi and sophomore Drew Yates added the other two goals for the Terps while sophomores Jeremy Hall and Doug Rodkey each recorded assists. Maryland dominated the Irish for the duration of the game, outshooting Notre Dame 17-3 and keeping Hermann Trophy winner Joseph Lapira in check. It was the first time the Irish had been shutout in 15 games.

Maryland jumped out of the gate in the first five minutes and spent a lot of the time on the offensive, getting off a couple of early shots. The attacking pressure came through soon enough just 4:25 into the match as Hall had the ball on the right side of the box deep near the goal line. Hall flicked it back to Zusi in front of the net who one-timed the ball into the goal for the 1-0 lead.

Zusi got another great chance at the 29:40 mark in the half after he was fouled at the left corner of the goal box. Zusi took the ensuing kick and swung a shot towards the right post, but it was saved by a diving Andrew Quinn. A hard rebound came out to freshman Rodney Wallace but his shot misfired high.

Notre Dame had its best opportunity of the half with 22 minutes left after a member of the Irish was fouled just outside the box on the left side. Alex Yoshinaga set up for the free kick a yard outside the box, but his in-swinger was headed out of danger and the Terps defense held without giving up a shot.

After a bunch of midfield play throughout the rest of the half, Maryland capitalized and scored its second goal of the day with 4:27 left. After the red and black attack penetrated into the offensive third, King had a defender on him on the left side of the box and kept trying to shake him to find an opening to deliver a cross. King faked towards the goal line and spun inside to send a pass into the box. The pass found Yates who tucked a shot next to the right post to put the Terps up two.

Maryland stayed on the attack and got another good chance as freshman Yannick Salmon chipped a pass to King on the left side of the box. The pass was deep and gave King a tough angle and his shot was saved by Quinn.

Maryland came away with the first shot on goal in the second half with six minutes expired as Zusi served up a Terps' corner into the box. His in-swinger was deflected out but landed on the foot of King, who fired a liner towards net. The shot made it through traffic, but Quinn made a good save to keep it out of goal.

Notre Dame finally recorded its first shot of the match with 31 minutes left when Notre Dame lobbed a pass into Lapira who was making a run. The Terps defense was on him, however, and forced a weak shot off the side of his foot that created no danger.

Maryland added its third goal of the game with 20 minutes left in the game when Rodkey sent a lob into the box while on the attack. Quinn came out to play the ball and looked to easily take it in with nobody pressuring him, but the ball slipped through his hands. Two Maryland players were behind the keeper to clean up the mess and King was the one who kicked it in.

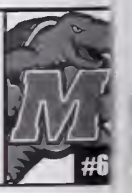
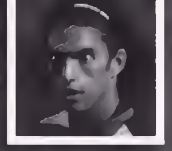
VS. WEST VIRGINIA
1-0



COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Dan Stratford scored 35 seconds into the first overtime to lead No. 20 West Virginia to a 1-0 win against No. 6 Maryland on September 7 in front of 5,022 fans at Ludwig Field. Stratford nailed home a cross from Mike Anoia seconds after the opening kick in the extra session. The attendance figure is the fifth-highest in Ludwig Field history.

The 5,022 spectators that showed up for Maryland's 2007 home debut outdrew the 4,565 that came out against NC State back on September 16 of last year.



After a back-and-forth 90 minutes that saw both teams squander opportunities, the Mountaineers wasted no time in the first overtime to steal a win on the road. After the kickoff, Anoia dribbled down the left side of the field and sent a cross into the box where Stratford was waiting for the game-winner.

The first half saw a lot of midfield play with both teams only attempting three shots. West Virginia got its first quality chance at the 28 minute mark when Stratford sent in a dangerous cross through the box off of a corner. Freshman keeper Will Swaim thwarted the attack with a diving punch that stopped any danger.

The Terps got the best chance to strike in the first half with 17:36 left after a West Virginia foul at the top of the box on the left side. Junior Graham Zusi took the free kick and sent in a cross to the far post that reached Wallace, but his header sailed just over the crossbar.

In the second half, the Terps were close to scoring again eight minutes in when Zusi sent in another cross from the left side. The pass made its way to an open Jeremy Hall in the box who tried to connect with the ball, but he just misfired.

Ten minutes later, the Mountaineers' attack broke through and barely missed getting on the board. Andy Wright fired off a hard shot on Swaim who made the save. The rebound deflected to the left to an open Tony Lindroos who saw an open net to shoot on. Lindroos fired, but junior A.J. Delagarza dove and made the save to keep West Virginia off the board.

After that play, Hall broke free in transition seconds later and was able to fire off a shot as he went one-on-one with the keeper but his shot went high over the goal.

With 1:36 to go in regulation, Stratford had a chance to score as he was driving down the middle of the field with nobody in front of him. Swaim came out to cut down the angle and Stratford tried to chip a shot over the freshman, but the shot was saved. The game was sent into overtime when Stratford finally connected.

SEPT. 9, 2007
VS. GEORGE MASON
0-3

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sophomores Jeremy Hall and Drew Yates led the No. 6 Maryland men's soccer team in a strong second half as the Terrapins scored all of their goals after halftime in a 3-0 win against George Mason on September 9 at Ludwig Field. All of the Terps' goals came in the last 20 minutes of the match. Hall established career highs with his two goals and four points while Yates' three points is also a personal best.

Hall's two scores were the first of this season for him while Yates added his second goal of 2007. Seniors Stephen King and Aki Kadotani and junior Graham Zusi were each credited with an assist in the match. Kadotani's helper was the first of his career. Freshman keeper Thorne Holder had to make just one save in his first collegiate start to earn the shutout.

Maryland controlled the entire 90 minutes of the match and outshot George Mason 13-2, but it was the Patriots who got the first quality chance of the night when Fro Adu received a pass in front of the box from Chris Carroll just two minutes after the opening whistle. Adu directed a shot towards the goal, but his attempt was just a bit over the crossbar.

The Terps almost put the first goal on the board off of a corner nine minutes in. Junior Michael Marchiano took the corner and delivered a cross to the far post to an awaiting Hall. The Tampa, Fla. native got a head to the ball while back-peddling, but barely missed over the goal.

Maryland had a couple of more quality chances in the first 45 minutes with freshman Yannick Salmon missing just wide and classmate Billy Cortes almost forcing an own goal against the Patriots. Salmon had a blast from 25 yards out saved by Sean Kelley at the 16:49 point in the half. With just over five minutes left, Cortes penetrated deep into the box on the left side. He sent a pass to his right and a GMU defender redirected the ball towards his own net, but Kelley was right there to make a save to keep the ball out of the net.

Nine minutes into the second half, Zusi took a free kick on the right side after a George Mason foul. His in-swinger sailed to the far post where freshman Rodney Wallace was making a run, but his diving header went high over the net.

With just under 20 minutes left in the game and Maryland on the attack, Zusi was taken down in the box and awarded a penalty kick. Zusi took it but Kelley guessed correctly and made the save to keep the Terps off the board for the time being.

The Terps' attack eventually proved to be too much, however, and scored three times in the final 20 minutes for the win. The first came in the 72nd minute when Zusi sent a cross into the box off of a corner kick. Zusi's pass was placed perfectly to Hall at the far post, who headed home a shot into the right side for the first score.

Eight minutes later, it was Hall again who beat Kelley for his second goal of the game after Yates and King found him on the right side maneuvering through the Patriots' defense.

Maryland's last goal came in the 89th minute when Kadotani stole the ball from the George Mason defense that was trying to clear. A pass deflected off of the senior and went to Yates to the right. The Severna Park product dribbled to the right side of the box and around a defender and placed a shot into the back of the net.

GAME 5
AT BOSTON COLLEGE

NEWTON, Mass. - Sherron Manswell scored twice for Boston College as the Eagles defeated the No. 7 Maryland men's soccer team, 2-0, on September 15 at the Newton Campus Soccer Field. Manswell's goals came three minutes apart in the first half to lift BC to victory in the ACC opener for both schools.

Maryland had three quality chances to score before Boston College struck first in the 26th minute on its first shot of the night. Two of the opportunities came off of Graham Zusi corners. The first came just five minutes in as Zusi took a corner on the left side. His pass went to the far post with Jeremy Hall heading it into the box. An Eagle defender headed it back to Hall, who jumped and served the ball back into the box. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez was able to get a shot off but the header was saved.

Just over a minute later, Zusi took a corner from the same spot and his pass found senior Spencer Allen. Allen got his head to the ball but his shot went just wide to the right.

Allen created another chance at the 36:30 mark as he stole the ball in the defensive half of the field. The Washington, D.C. product dribbled through the open midfield and found a streaking Hall making a run towards goal. Hall went one-on-one with the keeper with a defender behind him, but Chris Brown came out and made the open field save.

BC scored on its first chance of the night with 19:57 left in the half. A Maryland foul in its offensive half of the field allowed the Eagles the free kick. The ball was blasted to the other half of the field with Manswell making a run to the ball in front of him. Manswell got to the ball first and beat the Terps' keeper to put BC up 1-0.

Just over three minutes later, Alejandro Bedoya used some fancy footwork on the right side to find some open field. He then found Shawn Chin in front of him who delivered a cross into the box where Manswell was waiting. Manswell hooked a shot into the left side netting for his second goal of the match and gave BC a 2-0 advantage heading into the half.

The second frame was dominated with midfield play as both teams battled for possession. Boston College got the only dangerous chance in the half as a cross was sent into the box from the left side. Manswell was there again, but this time, freshman keeper Thorne Holder made a good save deflecting the shot over the cross bar.

GAME 6
VS. OLD DOMINION
0-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Sophomore Drew Yates scored his third goal of the season and the only one of the match as the No. 16 Maryland men's soccer team defeated Old Dominion, 1-0, on September 19 at Ludwig Field. Junior Graham Zusi was credited with the assist as he sent in the cross in the 32nd minute.

Maryland dominated the Monarchs in the midfield in the first half with senior captains Stephen King and Spencer Allen commanding the pitch. The Terrapins' offense fired off five shots while the back line did not allow one. Old Dominion got off five shots in the second half and had its chances but came up empty.

The Terps played most of the first half in their offensive half of the field and with 14 minutes expired, got their first dangerous opportunity. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez found some room about 30 yards out in the middle of the field to blast a shot. The ball was slightly deflected and sailed just high but earned Maryland a corner kick.

Zusi took the ensuing corner and sent in a good ball into the box to Gonzalez. The 6-5 sophomore got his head to it and put a shot past the keeper, but an ODU defender was there to keep the ball out of the goal.

The Terps' persistent attack paid off in the 32nd minute with the game's only goal. Sophomore Jeremy Hall was fouled from behind on the right side of the Maryland offensive third after hustling for a loose ball.

Zusi stepped up to take the free kick and served a perfect cross into the box where Yates was waiting. Yates redirected the pass into the left side of the net for the game winner.

Old Dominion was not without its chances in the second half though. Just six minutes in, Steffen Sommerstad found some open space 20 yards out in front of the box. He put a shot on goal but freshman keeper Will Swaim, who had been untested up to that point, made the save to his left to keep the Monarchs off the board.

With 20:50 to go in the game, ODU earned its only corner. Daniel Haywood delivered the cross and another Monarch redirected the ball low into the box, but the pass slowly slid out of bounds as Old Dominion was unable to get to the ball.

ODU's last shot at the equalizer came with 11:30 left as some nifty passing created some space for Ambane Emmanuel. Nane Joseph found T.J. Beaulieu with a pass who then gave it to a streaking Emmanuel in the middle of the field. Emmanuel's shot was directed right at Swaim who made the easy save, his third of the match.

GAME 7
SEPT. 22, 2007
AT DUKE
1-2

DURHAM, N.C. - Cole Grossman scored with 1:33 remaining in double overtime as No. 12 Duke beat the No. 16 Maryland men's soccer team, 2-1, on September 22 at Koskinen Stadium. Sophomore Drew Yates scored the equalizer for the Terrapins and freshman keeper Will Swaim was credited with a career high nine saves on the night.

The Terps and Duke shared a lot of possession in the first half but the Blue Devils fired off a majority of the shots as they led in that category 9-4. Their first good opportunity came 10:35 into the game as Joe Germanese found open space on the left side of the box. His shot was deflected by the Maryland defense and bounced in front of Mike Grella, but freshman keeper Will Swaim came off his line to stop another attempt on goal.

The Blue Devils earned a couple of corner kicks at the 29:00 mark but failed to convert on them. On the first attempt, Josh Bienenfeld got off a shot but the blast was redirected high by Swaim. Duke was unable to get a shot off of its second corner.

Maryland got its first quality chance with 19:30 on the clock as senior Stephen King forced the ball deep into the box on the right side that forced the Duke defense to kick out for a throw in. Senior Spencer Allen lined up for the toss and found sophomore Omar Gonzalez who redirected it back to junior Rich Costanzo, whose blast was deflected right to keeper Justin Papadakis who made the save.

Duke kept up their steady attack with three more opportunities in the last 15 minutes. The first came on a deep throw in by Darnius Barnes on the right side. His strong toss reached the six yard box and Duke got a head to the ball, but the shot was harmless has it passed the right post.

With 10 minutes left in the first half, Maryland committed a foul on the left side about 22 yards out. Grella stepped up for the free kick and put a shot on net, but his shot was right at Swaim who made the save. Five minutes later, Spencer Wadsworth got a decent shot at goal, but again, it was right at Swaim who made his fourth save of the half.

Duke missed out on a great opportunity early in the second half as an errant pass in their offensive half landed on the foot of Grella. The junior dribbled down the field with a Maryland defender to his left and fired off an open shot, but it was low and right at Swaim who stopped the shot.

The Blue Devils finally broke through with 34:45 left in the match after Pavelid Castaneda attempted a shot inside the box. His attempt was blocked by the Terps, but the deflection landed to a wide open Graham Dugoni on the left side of the 18. Dugoni's shot went uncontested and beat Swaim as Duke went up 1-0.

Maryland responded seven minutes later by converting on its best chance up to that point. King handled the ball in front of the box and found some room to his right. He fired off a shot that Papadakis made a diving save on, but Yates followed the play and was wide open to but back the rebound for the equalizer.

The Terps kept on the attack and at the 22:22 mark almost found the back of the net again. A pass was lobbed into sophomore Jeremy Hall in front of the box who used his chest to redirect it to senior Aki Kadotani to his left. Kadotani fired a shot that deflected off a Duke player and sailed wide past the left post.

With just under 10 minutes to go in the match, Costanzo was fouled from behind near midfield. Gonzalez took the ensuing free kick and sent a ball into the box. The pass was headed out by the Duke defense but went right to King about 20 yards out. King sent in a blast but his shot went just wide to the right.

A little over three minutes later, Grella was streaking down the left side with the ball and found some space to shoot, but his attempt was deflected wide by sophomore A.J. Delagarza and went out of bounds for a Duke corner. The Blue Devils were unable to make anything of it though as the score remained tied.

The Terps got a huge scare with 40 seconds left on the clock a Duke sent a ball deep into the box to their 6-7 forward Paul Dudley Swaim came out and got to the ball, but Dudley's head jarred it loose Dudley got to the ball in the six yard box and redirected it towards ne but mishit the shot and Swaim was able to recover and keep the sho out of goal.

Maryland used some of its best ball movement of the night after the opening kick in overtime and got the only good chance of the first extra session. King sent in a cross from the left side to junior Graham Zusi in the box who earned a corner for the Terps, but Maryland came away with nothing to show for it.

The winning goal came with 1:33 left in the match as Joe Germanese found Grossman on the left side. Instead of sending in a cross, Grossman fired at goal and his shot nailed under the crossba and went in for the game-winner.

GAME 8
SEPT. 29, 2007
AT WAKE FOREST
1-2

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - The No. 18 Maryland men's soccer team battled No. 1 Wake Forest to the final whistle, but it was the Demon Deacons who came out on top, 2-0, in front of 3,317 fans at Spry Stadium on September 29.

The first half was full of play in the midfield with just five shots being attempted in the half. Wake Forest got the first opportunity 10 minutes in when Cody Amoux found Mike Lahoud in the box with a cross from the left side. Lahoud fired a one-timer but it sailed just high over the crossbar.

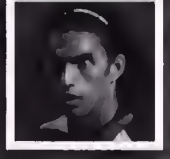
Maryland got its first scoring chance with 14:00 left in the half when sophomore Drew Yates found classmate Jeremy Hall in the middle of the field. Hall dished off to junior Rich Costanzo to his right who found a seam to shoot. Costanzo tried to slip a shot past keeper Brian Edwards, but he made the diving stop to his right to keep the Terps off the board.

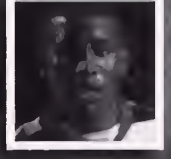
The Deacons started to take the offensive with under 10 minutes left as Lyle Adams sent in a cross from the left side into the box. The pass was a little too far out in front of a sliding Marcus Tracy, who just missed getting a foot on the ball for the shot.

Wake finally connected on a shot with 5:10 left to go. Evan Brown and Tracy broke through the Terrapin attack on the right side and found Zack Schilawski in the box. The sophomore fired a shot that deflected off of a Terp defender and into the back of the net to give the Deacons a 1-0 lead into the halftime break.

Wake Forest came inches away from cushioning its lead to two goals in the first five minutes of the second half when Corben Bone set up for a corner kick on the right side. His in-swinger found a leaping Amoux in the box, whose header barely passed over the crossbar.

The Terps almost got a goal of their own at the 38:00 mark when freshman Rodney Wallace found himself deep in the offensive third on the left side. He passed back to junior Graham Zusi who was open in the box, but his shot was fired wide of the right post.





Wake came right back with another scoring chance as Bone set up Arnoux on the left side on the counterattack. Arnoux attacked the ball hard in the box, but freshman keeper Thorne Holder came off his line and saved the shot.

After extensive play in the midfield, Lahoud got another opportunity to score with 20:20 to go in the game as he found some space on the left side. His shot was trying to find the left side of the net, but Holder made the diving save to keep the Terps a goal down.

Maryland earned a couple of dangerous chances around the 13:00 mark as Costanzo dribbled down the right side of the field and delivered a pass towards sophomore Drew Yates inside the box. Yates took a shot, but a Wake defender deflected it out for a corner.

The initial pass off the corner was safely cleared by the Demon Deacon defense, but sophomore Omar Gonzalez ended up with the ball 30 yards out. He decided to take a shot at goal, but his blast was saved by Edwards.

Maryland pushed forward and kept on the attack and three minutes later got another shot on goal. Senior Stephen King found Costanzo in front of the box who fired a shot, but his attempt was deflected by a Wake defender and then saved by a diving Edwards.

The Terps got their best chance for the equalizer with 4:50 left in the game after Holder cleared the ball into Maryland's offensive half of the field. The ball ended up on the foot of King who sent a shot in, but his attempt hit the right post and stayed out of the goal. The ball landed on the foot of freshman Billy Cortes, but his rebound attempt was deflected away from danger.

The Demon Deacons put the game away with their second goal with just 37 seconds remaining. With nine players forward on the attack, Maryland was caught off guard on a clear as Arnoux went one-on-one with Holder who was forced to come out of goal. Arnoux was able to get around Holder and put the ball in the back of the net.

GAME 9
OCT. 2, 2007
VS. STONY BROOK
1-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Freshman Billy Cortes scored his first collegiate goal in the 57th minute as the Maryland men's soccer team and Stony Brook played to a 1-1 draw on October 2 at Ludwig Field. The Terrapins dominated the match and outshot the Seawolves 20-4 but were unable to come up with a game-winning second goal. Senior Spencer Allen and junior Graham Zusi were credited with the assist on Maryland's score.

Maryland controlled the match for the entire 110 minutes, allowing just a single shot in each of the four periods. The Terps rattled off 17 shots in regulation and three more in the extra sessions. The Terps also earned eight corners during the course of the night and did not allow one to Stony Brook.

Zusi got things going for the Terps 15 minutes after the opening whistle when he sent in the Terps' first corner kick of the evening. His in-swinger was low and kicked back to him, but he was able to send in another cross to the far post. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez was there waiting and his header just missed high over the crossbar.

Eight minutes later, it was Zusi who sent a header towards goal but barely missed wide after junior Rich Costanzo set him up with some fancy footwork. Senior Stephen King also got in on the action at the 18:21 mark when he made a move around two Stony Brook defenders to free himself up for a shot. His low blast was directed right at Dawid Ditrich who made the save.

Ditrich came up with one of his best saves of the night a half hour into the contest after Costanzo sent a pass into the box from the midfield area. His pass was perfect, finding sophomore Jeremy Hall on the left side of the box. Hall redirected a shot towards the right side, but Ditrich made the fingertip save to keep the Terps off the board.

Cortes started to get in on the action late in the first half and early in the second and became someone the Seawolves had to watch. He got a shot on goal that Ditrich saved late in the first and was part of another Maryland scoring chance early in the second as Zusi redirected one of his shots that just missed.

Cortes and the Terps finally found the back of the net in the 57th minute as Hall started the play with a throw-in deep in the attacking third on the left side. His short toss found Allen who decided to send a cross into the box. His pass reached Cortes at the far post who beat Ditrich to put Maryland up 1-0.

Stony Brook did not waste any time responding as they scored the equalizer just over four minutes later. The Seawolves were able to break free on a counterattack and Michael Palacio found a streaking Petar Rakovic down the right side. Rakovic handled the ball near the flag and sent in a cross. Mahamadou Simpara was waiting in the box and the pass hit him, and Simpara tucked a header into the left side netting for the game-tying goal.

Maryland continued to control the pace of the game and came up with a few more scoring chances but were unable to find its second goal.

Freshman keeper Thorne Holder recorded three saves in his fourth start while Ditrich stopped five shots for the Seawolves (6-3-1).

GAME 10
OCT. 5, 2007
VS. CLEMSON
2-3

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Freshman Rodney Wallace scored his first collegiate goal in the fourth minute of overtime off of a Graham Zusi corner kick to give the Maryland men's soccer team a 3-2 win against Clemson in front of a crowd of 3,726 at Ludwig Field. Senior Stephen King added a pair of assists for the Terrapins on their first score and the equalizer in the second half.

Freshman Billy Cortes added the first goal of the night while sophomore Drew Yates scored the equalizer in the 68th minute after the Terps fell behind. Junior Rich Costanzo also added an assist in the win.

The first half belonged to Maryland the entire way with the Terps getting a bunch of scoring chances. Cortes made his presence known immediately in his first collegiate start by getting a shot off seven minutes in. Moments later, King was out in front of the box and found Cortes making a run to his left who finished the play off with the first goal of the night.

At the 19:39 mark, the Terps nearly added a second goal when Zusi spotted King on the left side and dished off. King found a seam to shoot and went far post. His shot beat the keeper but not the post, as his attempt hit the right post and trickled out of bounds.

Five minutes later it was King and Cortes again creating havoc in the box as King tracked down a loose ball in front of him. Nobody was there to stop him but the keeper came off his line and the two reached the ball at the same time. The ball deflected towards Cortes who was standing to the left, but Joseph Bendik recovered in time and made the save on Cortes' shot.

Freshman keeper Thorne Holder was finally tested by the Clemson attack with 7:24 left in the half as David Bell found an opening and blasted a shot towards the right side of the net. Holder made the diving save and kept the Terps' lead heading into the locker rooms.

Clemson wasted no time after the halftime break in scoring the equalizer as Greg Eckhardt set up for a corner just three minutes in. His in-swinger found an open Tate Parrish in the box whose header beat Holder to the right side to tie the score 1-1.

The Maryland attack pressed on and four minutes later, almost responded with another goal. After a Clemson foul, Zusi took the free kick about 25 yards out. He decided to shoot for goal, but his low blast was saved. Bendik couldn't handle it, though, and the rebound went to Cortes in the box who lined up for another shot, but it was blocked by a Tiger defender and no danger followed.

Clemson scored its second goal of the night in the 64th minute after a Tiger sent in a cross from the left side. The pass was low and a Maryland defender was there to clear the ball. The ball was redirected right to Tommy Drake, though, who was wide open and fired a shot to the left side of the net to give Clemson the 2-1 advantage.

The Terps did not let up and their attack broke through again just four minutes later as Costanzo made a run with the ball down the right side of the field. Costanzo found King closer to the box who then sent a pass across the box. Yates was waiting at the left post and finished the play with the easy equalizer.

Maryland had a couple more chances before regulation ended for the game-winning goal but came up just short on a King header and a Costanzo blast.

In the first overtime period, the Terps won a corner kick on the left side just three minutes in. Zusi stepped up and delivered the ball into the box where Wallace was waiting to put away the game-winner.

Holder was credited with a pair of saves on the night while Bendik recorded five for the Tigers (4-6-1, 0-4-0 ACC).

GAME 11
OCT. 9, 2007
VS. LEHIGH
1-2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - With the scored tied 1-1 in the 84th minute, sophomore Jeremy Hall connected on a penalty kick to give the Maryland men's soccer team a 2-1 win against Lehigh on October 9 at Ludwig Field. Classmate Drew Yates scored his team leading sixth goal of the season in the 31st minute in the first ever meeting between the two programs.

Maryland was constantly on the attack throughout the 90 minutes and fired off 16 shots while earning the same amount of corner kicks.

The Terrapins' pressure paid off with some early opportunities as six minutes in, junior Michael Marchiano stepped up for a corner kick. His delivery went to freshman Sean Flatley in the box, who headed a ball wide of the target.

A couple of minutes later junior Graham Zusi sent a ball into the box from about 35 yards out on the right side. His pass skipped through the box but freshman Rodney Wallace was making a run to the far post. Wallace slid for the ball but barely missed getting a shot off as the pass rolled out of bounds.

At the 35:51 mark, the Terps nearly got on the board as Marchiano sent in another in-swinger off of a corner kick. This time, the pass found Hall at the far post who used his head to get a shot on goal. Lehigh keeper Brian Lee used a quick reflex to keep the shot out of net and the Terps off the board.

Maryland's persistence finally paid off with exactly 31:00 showing on the board as junior Rich Costanzo sent in a cross after putting a nice move on a Mountain Hawk defender. The ball bounced once in the box to an awaiting Yates who slipped a shot past the keeper for the game's first goal. It was Yates' first touch of the game which came just over five minutes after he entered the match.

The second half continued much like the first, with Maryland possessing in its offensive half of the field, but it was Lehigh who came up with the first decent chance after the halftime whistle. After some clever passing in the middle of the field, the Mountain Hawks' leading scorer, Kyle Evans, found a seam to shoot. His blast sailed wide to the left and was not a threat.

Maryland got another corner kick a half hour in as Zusi lined up for the play on the left side. His delivery found freshman Billy Cortes in the mix who got a head to the ball, but his shot was stopped by Lee. A few minutes later, it was Cortes who sent in a corner to sophomore Omar Gonzalez, who missed by inches to the left on a header.

With the Terps constantly on the offensive, it was a Lehigh counterattack that caught Maryland off guard and got the Mountain Hawks on the board. In the 80th minute, Michael Hessemer found himself with the ball on the right side and saw Jim Taranto making a run down the middle. Hessemer delivered a good ball to Taranto, who scored the equalizer late in the game.

Maryland responded with chance after chance following the Lehigh goal and eventually broke through for the game-winner. The Terps earned several corners and only a pair of impressive saves by Lee kept Maryland from getting the go-ahead goal.

With just over seven minutes remaining, the Terps were still pressuring and senior Stephen King was making a run with the ball on the right side of the box. He was tripped up and the referee awarded the Terps the penalty kick, which Hall converted for the win.

Lee made fives saves for the Mountain Hawks (5-3-2) while freshman keeper Thorne Holder was credited with two in his second-straight win.

VS. VIRGINIA TECH
1-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The Maryland men's soccer team went to overtime for the sixth time this season, this time resulting in a 1-1 draw against No. 8 Virginia Tech on October 13 in front of 4,009 fans at Ludwig Field. Sophomore Jeremy Hall scored his fourth goal of the year in the 64th minute for the Terrapins.

Freshman keeper Thorne Holder saved a career high four shots in the 110 minutes while senior Stephen King earned the assist on Hall's tally. The 4,009 spectators that watched the match was the 10th largest crowd in Ludwig Field history.

Holder was pressured early in the match as he had to make a save two minutes in. Patrick Nyarko found Robert Edmans on the right side for a shot and Edmans put it on net, but Holder stopped the shot to keep the Hokies off the board.

Virginia Tech nearly scored with a little under 29 minutes to go when Nyarko sent in a cross from the left side. The pass found the 6-6 Edmans in the box who got a head to it, but his shot hit the cross bar and bounced out. The ball then went to Georg Zehender who fired a shot too high.

The Hokies' pressure paid off in the 23rd minute as Nyarko made yet another run, this time on the right side. After a good individual effort, he sent in a pass to an open Zehender in the box, who beat the Maryland defense to put Virginia Tech up 1-0.

Maryland almost equalized in the 30th minute when Hall was making a run down the middle of the field. He got tripped up by a Hokie defender but the ball skipped to King behind him who found a seam to shoot. King blasted a shot, but Markus Aigner made one of his four saves to keep the Hokies' lead heading into halftime.

Holder came up big for the Terps early in the second half as he made a diving save on a shot by Charles Campbell to keep the deficit at one.

Then, the Terps started to piece together impressive attacks as they started to control the pace of the match. Freshman Billy Cortes set up a streaking Graham Zusi 10 minutes into the second half but his shot was deflected high.

A few minutes later, Cortes and Hall used some clever passing to set up freshman Rodney Wallace on the right side of the box, but Aigner came off of his line and thwarted the attack.

In the 64th minute, Maryland finally struck as King stole the ball in the Terps' offensive third from Scott Spangler. Hall made a run in the middle of the box and King's pass was perfect as Hall found the back of the net to tie the game 1-1.

Momentum completely shifted in Maryland's favor after its goal as the Terps kept up the offensive pressure. With 11 minutes left in regulation, Zusi set up for a corner kick on the left side. His in-swinger found Wallace in the box who headed a shot towards the left side of the goal, but Aigner made a diving fingertip save to keep the go-ahead goal from finding the net.

Hall got another chance with 3:25 to go in regulation as King foun sophomore Drew Yates with a through ball on the right side. Yates the found Hall in the box with a man on him. Hall made a move, turned an fired, but his attempt sailed just wide to the left.

The first overtime was evenly played as neither side was able to ge off a shot. Maryland took three shots in the second extra session t Virginia Tech's one, but none of the chances proved to be dangerous.

OCT. 16, 2007
VS. VILLANOVA
0-4

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Freshman Rodney Wallace scored twice as the Maryland men's soccer team beat Villanova, 4-0, on October 16 a Ludwig Field. Junior Graham Zusi assisted on both of his goals while sophomore Jeremy Hall recorded a goal and an assist in the victory.

Maryland extended its unbeaten streak to five games and is 3-0-2 during its current homestand. Sophomore Drew Yates added a goal ir the win while junior Michael Marchiano notched his first career point, ar assist off of a corner kick that Yates cleaned up.

A raucous crowd of 1,603 was in attendance for the Tuesday night matchup, mostly filled with the university's fraternities and sororities for a spirit contest as part of their Homecoming Week festivities.

Maryland dominated the entire 90 minutes as it outshot Villanova 20-6 and took 14 corner kicks. Despite those numbers, the Wildcats almost struck first in the early going less than a minute in. Villanova had the ball in its offensive third on the left side. The ball was sent into the box where Mike Del Guercio was waiting. He redirected the ball towards the right side of the goal but it hit the post and trickled out of bounds.

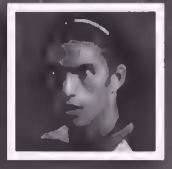
It did not take the Terrapins much longer to notch their first goal of the game as Wallace handled the ball on the left side in the sixth minute. Wallace played the ball to Zusi to his right and then made a run towards goal. Zusi flicked a one-time pass in front of Wallace who got to the ball before keeper Jason Friel and put a shot into the back of the net.

Villanova nearly scored an equalizer with 32:17 on the clock when Del Guercio ripped a turnaround shot from 25 yards out. Del Guercio nailed the crossbar and the ball popped out to allow Maryland to keep its 1-0 lead into halftime.

It only took the Terps six minutes in the second half to score again as Hall and Zusi set up Wallace perfectly on the left side of the box for his second goal of the night to make it 2-0.

Freshman keeper Thorne Holder went virtually uncontested the entire night but was there when Maryland needed him. With 35:14 to go in the game, Del Guercio posed yet another threat as he handled the ball on the left side of the pitch. He found Joe Taylor who found a seam to shoot and sent in a low blast that Holder handled.

The Terps added more cushion in the 71st minute as a free kick was given to them after a Villanova foul. The ball was sent into the box but the Wildcats committed a foul, giving the Terps a penalty kick. Hall took it and hit his second PK of the season to make it 3-0.



Maryland continued on the attack, never letting up in the 90 minutes, and earned its 14th corner kick of the night in the 89th minute. Marchiano stepped up to take it and sent in a pass. The ball bounced around in a crowd for a little bit before Yates sent in his team-leading seventh goal of the year.

VS. CAL ST. NORTHRIDGE
1-1

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The Maryland men's soccer team went into overtime for the eighth time this season as it played to a 1-1 draw against Cal State Northridge on October 21 at Ludwig Field. Both goals were scored before three minutes had expired from the clock as freshman Rodney Wallace scored the equalizer for the Terrapins just 2:16 into the match.

Cal State Northridge's Michael Clegg scored 1:02 into the match after Adrian Lopez stole a bad clear attempt from the Maryland keeper. The Terps responded with Wallace's score with the assists going to junior Rich Costanzo and sophomore Jeremy Hall.

A minute after the opening whistle, the Maryland keeper tried to clear the ball from the box with the Matadors applying some pressure. The ball stayed on the ground and went right to Lopez in the middle of the field. Clegg was streaking on the left side and Lopez fed him nicely to set up the goal.

Maryland's equalizer came very quickly as Hall handled the ball on the right side. He dished ahead to Costanzo who sent a cross into the box. The pass found Wallace at the far post, who headed in a shot to cap the scoring.

Both teams did not go without chances, though, as the Terps used clever passing on the left side at the 25:50 mark. Senior Stephen King sent a nice through ball to Wallace outside of the box who sent a cross into the middle. Junior Graham Zusi got a head to the ball but his header just missed.

Ten minutes later, Zusi set up for a corner on the left side and sent a ball into the box. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez used his 6-6 frame to get position, but his header was saved by Kevin Guppy. With 12:17 left in the first half, freshman Yannick Salmon set up classmate Billy Cortes with a nice pass, but his shot missed by inches to the left.

The Matadors almost put one on the board as time was expiring as Clegg's teammate found him making a run on the right side. Clegg opted to shoot and barely missed the near post with a shot.

With 38:17 left in the game, Maryland earned another corner, one of 13, and almost capitalized. With the ball bouncing around in the box, it finally settled to an open Drew Yates, who fired a shot but missed a little to the left.

Ten minutes later the Matadors came close to hitting the go-ahead goal as Moy Gomez found some open space to fire a blast from 20 yards out but his shot sailed high.

The most important save of the day came with just three minutes to play in regulation as Zusi set up for a corner on the right side. His delivery found Wallace in the middle of the box who redirected the pass. His header was on goal, but Guppy made the point-blank save to keep the score tied.

After the first overtime session with each team taking a shot, the second 10 minutes was fast paced with eight total shots. Devin Deldo nearly claimed the golden goal 2:42 into the second overtime as he fired a shot that hit the crossbar, bounced down, and stayed clear from the goal line.

Gonzalez missed high on a header with 5:30 to play and then two minutes later, the Terps earned a pair of free kicks right outside the box. On the second attempt, King fired a shot that was blocked by the Cal State Northridge wall, but the ricochet went right to Costanzo. He fired on goal but Guppy came up with another save to keep the game tied.

Sophomore Doug Rodkey got in on the action with 1:51 remaining as he dribbled down the right side and used his speed to create some space. He sent a blast towards the far post, but Guppy dove and saved another Terp attempt to force the draw.

The contest was rough for the entire 110 minutes as the Matadors committed 26 fouls to Maryland's 13. Cal State Northridge was handed six cards, three of them red, while the Terps also had a player sent off.

GAME 15
OCT. 23, 2007
VS. GEORGETOWN
1-2

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Senior Aki Kadotani scored his first goal in over two years and freshman Sean Flatley scored his first collegiate goal as the Maryland men's soccer team defeated Georgetown, 2-1, on October 23 at Ludwig Field. Senior Stephen King set up both scores and tied his career high with the two assists.

It was the 27th time that the Terrapins and Hoyas had met on the pitch and it was the 27th time that that the result went to Maryland. The Terps now own a perfect 27-0-0 record all-time against their local foe. The win also improves Maryland's unbeaten streak to seven games as it is 4-0-3 in its current nine-game homestand.

Both sides seemed to be a little slow following the opening whistle as scoring chances were few and far between. The Terps got a quality chance with 16:02 to go in the half as junior Graham Zusi started an attack by streaking down the middle of the field with possession. He was challenged and the ball was jarred loose in front of the box, but it deflected to King who launched a shot that barely missed to the left.

Four minutes later, Georgetown's Scott Larrabee set up for a free kick on the left side and passed it to the corner to Mostafa Ebrahimnejad. Ebrahimnejad served a low pass into the box but Georgetown could not get to it and the ball skipped harmlessly across the field.

In the 44th minute, the Terps earned one of their five first half corner kicks. King set up for the delivery at the right flag stick and sent the ball into the box. The pass found Flatley in front who got his head to it and lobbed a shot over the Hoyas' keeper to give Maryland the 1-0 lead into the halftime break.

Cirovski started Kadotani at forward in the second half and the move paid off in the 55th minute. King handled the ball on the left side of the box and worked the defender on him, eventually darting for the end line. Before the ball could cross over the line, King went down and sent a short cross from just outside the six yard box. The ball bounced around for a moment before Kadotani got his foot to it and pushed the Maryland lead to two goals.

Georgetown did not let down and kept the offensive pressure on the Terps, gaining a couple of chances before cutting the Maryland lead in half. With 26:35 to play in the game, the Hoyas earned a corner kick. Larrabee sent the ball into the box and the Terps couldn't clear. The ball landed on the foot of Alex Verdi who blasted a shot, but the ball did not reach the goal as it was blocked.

The Hoyas finally struck in the 66th minute as Sean Bellomy handled the ball in the box. Bellomy found an open Chandler Diggs to his right and dished off to him. Diggs then found Bellomy again who made a move towards goal, and Bellomy put the ball in the back of the net to make it 2-1. The Hoyas (5-10-0) were unable to strike again as Maryland came away with the win.

GAME 16
OCT. 27, 2007
VS. NC STATE
0-5

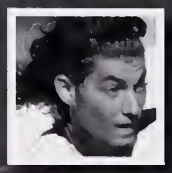
COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The Maryland men's soccer team used the strength of four second half goals to ease by NC State, 5-0, on October 27 at Ludwig Field. Freshman Rodney Wallace scored two goals for the second time this year while junior Michael Marchiano added a career-high two assists.

Junior Graham Zusi and sophomore Drew Yates scored unassisted goals for the Terrapins after the 70th minute. It was Yates' team-leading eighth goal of the year. Sophomore Doug Rodkey scored his first collegiate goal in the 79th minute and senior Stephen King and sophomore Omar Gonzalez added assists. King leads the ACC with nine helpers.

Maryland dominated the pace of the game the entire way recording chance after chance throughout the 90 minutes while NC State managed just one shot on goal. The Terps fired off a total of 24 shots, 13 in the first half, to the Wolfpack's six.

After spending a lot of time in its offensive half of the field, Maryland finally got a break when Zusi was taken down while making a run with the ball down the middle of the pitch. A yellow card was issued and Marchiano stepped up to take the free kick from 25 yards out. He put the in-swinger into the box to an awaiting Wallace, who headed a ball beautifully into the left corner of the goal to make it 1-0.

With 12:20 left in the first half, freshman keeper Will Swaim recorded his lone save of the night as Alan Sanchez found a seam to shoot on the right side. He blasted a shot toward the far post, but Swaim made a diving save to keep Maryland's lead safe.



The best chance Maryland had to extend its lead in the first half came off the counterattack from Swaim's save. The offense pushed down field and a cross was sent in from the left side. The pass found Yates at the far post, and with the keeper out of position, headed the ball towards goal. A NC State defender stepped in, though, and kept the second goal from scoring.

Maryland's attack broke out in a big way after the halftime break with four goals. The Terps earned a corner in the 60th minute and Marchiano stepped up to deliver the pass. His ball skipped through to the left side of the box where Gonzalez was waiting. The sophomore flicked a pass to Wallace to his right, who blasted a shot into the back of the net for his sixth goal of the season.

The Terps added three more goals after the 70th minute with the first coming from Zusi at 70:18. Gonzalez took a throw-in on the left side and sent it into the box. The Wolfpack defense got to the ball first and tried to kick it out, but the ball landed right to Zusi, who took a shot at goal. A NC State defender was there to stop the ball again, but the linesman declared the ball over the line to give Zusi the goal.

Rodkey scored the first goal of his career in the 79th minute when King sent in a pass from the right side near the end line. The ball was perfect, finding Rodkey on the left side of the box for the score.

Maryland finally put an end to the scoring in the 83rd minute as the Terps swarming attack forced NC State to make another team save. This time, the ball deflected right to Yates, who put the ball back into the net for the 5-0 win.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - With the help of its three seniors in their final regular season home match at Ludwig Field, the No. 25 Maryland men's soccer team beat No. 14 Virginia, 4-1, on November 3 in front of 3,267 fans. Stephen King led the way as he had a hand in all four goals, scoring one and dishing out a career-high three assists.

King, who has never missed a start in his career, was in the starting lineup for the 89th time which ties the program record held by Keith Beach. With his three helpers, King moved to second all-time at Maryland with 32 career assists. He is now tied with Eberhard Klein who had the same number from 1962-64. He is just three more assists away from tying Beach for the career record of 35.

Senior Spencer Allen scored his first goal of the year and also added an assist while classmate Aki Kadotani also scored a goal. Junior Graham Zusi added the fourth Maryland goal while junior Michael Marchiano and sophomore Doug Rodkey notched assists.

The Terrapins improved to 9-4-4 and are now 3-3-1 in the ACC while Virginia dropped to 10-5-2 and 1-4-2 in the conference. Maryland did not lose in its nine-game homestand with a record of 6-0-3. The Terps outscored their opponents 23-8 in that stretch.

Maryland's attack was persistent throughout the night and it was Allen who struck first in the 11th minute. King handled the ball on the left side of the pitch and found Marchiano. The junior captain sent a low pass across the box to the far post where Allen was making a run. The Washington, D.C. product slid and put the ball into the back of the net for his first goal this year.

Virginia had a good chance to equalize with 17:38 on the clock as Ross LaBauex handled the ball in the box with his back to the goal. He turned and fired but his shot was deflected out of bounds for a corner kick, but it did not provide a threat.

The Cavaliers did get their equalizer in the 31st minute when Neil Barlow used a long pass to find Yannick Reyering on the left side of the box. Reyering snuck a shot between freshman Will Swaim and the left post to tie the game up.

It didn't take long for Maryland to regain the lead as in the 33rd minute the Terps got their go-ahead goal. Allen controlled the ball on the left side of the box and then found King ahead of him. King delivered a pass across the box to the right side to an awaiting Zusi who recorded the game-winning goal.

The Terps controlled the second half and took seven shots to Virginia's two. Kadotani struck the back of the net in the 75th minute after Rodkey sent him a long pass ahead of everyone else. Kadotani went one-on-one with the keeper and beat him for his second goal in three games.

In the 81st minute, Zusi was taken down in front of the box on the left side to set up a free kick. Cirovski ordered the senior King to step to the ball instead of Zusi and it paid off. King bent a shot around the wall and beat the keeper with a beautiful shot to seal the win.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. - With the game heading for a 1-1 tie, junior Graham Zusi scored with six seconds left in the second overtime to push the No. 19 Maryland men's soccer team to a 2-1 win against North Carolina on November 9 at Fetzer Field. Zusi used a give-and-go with freshman Rodney Wallace on the right side to set himself up for the goal.

Maryland got off to a fast start in the first 2:30 as it fired off three early shots. One of those was a great scoring opportunity as senior Stephen King and freshman Rodney Wallace set up senior Aki Kadotani in front of the box. Kadotani took the shot but keeper Tyler Deric came up with a big early save to keep the Terps off the board.

It was North Carolina who struck first though with 32:55 on the clock when Eddie Ababio handled the ball on the left side. He sent a cross into the box to Bill Dworsky at the far post who headed it closer to goal. Joan Carvajal cleaned up the play by finding the back of the net to put the Tar Heels up 1-0.

King once again set up a good scoring chance for the Terps as he sent a nice pass to his right to junior Graham Zusi at 22:10. Zusi had a man on him though and his shot sailed high and wide away from the goal.

The Heels had a chance to push their lead to a pair of goals wi 2:10 left in the first half as Brian Shriver used his chest to place the ba at his feet and then fired off a shot from the left side of the box. His sh was wide of the far post and rolled harmlessly over the end line.

North Carolina got the first good chance of the second half a Michael Callahan was by himself in front of keeper Will Swaim battlin for the ball. Both players fell to the ground in the scramble and the ba spilled out into the arms of Swaim to thwart the attack.

With Maryland on the attack and Zusi on the ball, he was take down by Andre Sherard 20 yards out on the left side. King, who h the beautiful free kick for a goal in the last match against NC Stat and Zusi both stepped to the ball. It was Zusi taking the shot this tim whose shot got over the wall and past the keeper for the equalizin goal.

After a Maryland corner kick, UNC went on the counterattack an got a decent shot towards goal. A cross from the left side was sent f Jordan Graye on the right making a run. He was open for a shot bu he mishit, sending a shot wide to the left with a little over 10 minute remaining.

Neither team recorded another dangerous chance for the remainin time in regulation to force overtime at Fetzer Field for the second straight year between the two teams.

The Terps earned a corner kick with just three minutes expired i overtime and it proved dangerous. Zusi took the corner and it bounce around in the middle of the box, but a Maryland player couldn't get to and UNC cleared.

The rest of the first overtime session was played primarily in th midfield with neither team getting another good opportunity to score.

With under eight minutes to go in the game, Maryland committed foul right outside of its box on the left side. Michael Callahan steppe to the ball and fired at the wall, which blocked his first attempt. Th deflection came back at him and he shot again, but his blast saile wide.

Cameron Lewis had a great chance to score the game-winner as h used a give-and-go with a teammate to get open. Lewis took the ope shot on the right side of the box

The Tar Heels played most of the second overtime on the attack, bu Maryland capitalized on their chance when Zusi and Wallace hooke up for the game-winning goal in the waning seconds.

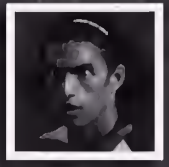
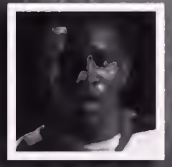
ACC QUARTERFINALS

CARY, N.C. - Ben Nason and Patrick Nyarko scored seven of Virginia Tech's nine points as the Hokies defeated the Maryland men's soccer team, 3-0, in quarterfinal action of the 2007 ACC Championship at the SAS Soccer Complex on November 14. The Terrapins will now await their NCAA fate when the field is announced on Monday.





Nason scored the first and the third goals of the day while Nyarko added a goal and an assist. Charles Campbell and Georg Zehender also added assists in the win.

The first half was played primarily in the midfield with both teams getting off three shots. The Hokies had the first chance of the day five minutes in when Charlie Campbell handled the ball on the left side. He found Patrick Nyarko inside the box who fired a shot on goal, but it was right at freshman keeper Will Swaim who made the save.

In the 22nd minute, a Virginia Tech player was taken down on a break and was awarded a free kick from 25 yards out. Charlie Campbell started by playing the ball to Ben Nason for the shot. Nason blasted a low shot past the wall and Swaim to give the Hokies the 1-0 lead.

Maryland was unable to get a shot off until the 9:30 mark of the half as senior Stephen King set up freshman Rodney Wallace on the left side of the box. Wallace played the ball at a tough angle and got the shot off but Markus Aigner made the save.

At the 5:00 mark with Maryland on the attack, senior Aki Kadotani and King set up Wallace in the middle of the box but a Hokie defender made a good slide tackle to keep the Terps from getting off an open shot.

The Terps were inches away from the equalizer with 3:45 to go in the half. Freshman Yannick Salmon was taken down on the left side of the box to give Maryland a free kick. Junior Graham Zusi and King set up behind the ball from 22 yards out, the same spot where they both have hit a goal the last two games. Zusi took the shot this time and launched a beautiful ball but it hit the left post and bounced away, keeping the score at 1-0 into halftime.

The Hokies notched the first quality chance of the second half at 28:15 when the Tech back line sent a long ball to a streaking Nyarko in the middle of the field. Junior A.J. Delagarza was right behind him and Swaim came out to cut off the angle. Nyarko tried to tip it past Swaim but he made the save to stop the attack.

Maryland had a chance at the 26:45 mark when junior Rich Costanzo found King with a long pass on the left side of the box. King blasted a shot but Aigner made the save to keep the Terps off the board.

Virginia Tech added to their lead not much later with 25:38 left in the game with a Nyarko goal. Georg Zehender played a ball into Nyarko who went one-on-one with Swaim and got the ball past him to cushion the Hokies' lead.

Virginia Tech added to its lead again with 7:04 left in the game when Nyarko sent a pass into the box from the left side. Nason was streaking down the middle and redirected the ball slightly to beat the keeper, making it 3-0 in favor of the Hokies.

NCAA SECOND ROUND

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - After a scoreless 110 minutes of action at Ludwig Field, the No. 19 Maryland men's soccer team and Loyola had to go to a penalty shootout to determine which side would advance to the NCAA Sweet Sixteen. Freshman keeper Thorne Holder, who did not play in the entire game, made two saves and sophomore Jeremy Hall converted the winning kick as the Terrapins advanced past Loyola in the shootout, 4-2, and into the third round of the NCAA Tournament.

As expected with Maryland's attacking style and Loyola's defensive-minded play, the Terps dominated the flow of the match most of the way. Maryland fired off 18 shots against Loyola while the Greyhounds had just five.

Greyhound keeper Milos Kocic kept the Terps at bay with six saves while freshman keeper Will Swaim was required to make two in the match.

Before the 110 minutes expired, Holder was warming up on the sideline for a possible shootout. It was a predetermined move by Cirovski, who counted on both freshman keepers in the night.

In the shootout, senior Spencer Allen and Tennant McVea both hit the back of the net, but Kocic saved Maryland's second attempt and the Grehounds scored to take the 2-1 lead. Senior Stephen King converted his chance to tie it, then Holder stopped Camilo Correa's shot to make it 2-2. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez gave the lead back to Maryland with his goal and then Holder guessed correctly again, this time stifling Julian Cantillo.

Hall stepped to the ball knowing that one more goal would seal the win and he delivered, beating Kocic to send Maryland into the third round of the NCAA Tournament for the sixth straight season.

Both teams spent time on the attack in the first half with Maryland getting a bulk of the chances. Junior Graham Zusi sent a cross into the box from the right side 15 minutes in and found Hall who redirected towards goal. Kocic was there to make the save though.

Loyola's only quality chance of the half came with 27:59 to go as Phil Bannister handled the ball deep in the box on left side. He fired, but his shot sailed high over the post.

The Terps had another chance to score with 10:15 left in the half as junior Rich Costanzo had the ball about 35 yards out. He decided to blast a shot towards the right side which surprised Kocic, but he came up with the diving save to keep the game scoreless.

Swaim was finally tested with 27:43 to go in regulation as Bannister again struck a hard shot to the left side. Swaim dove to his right and kept the ball out of the net.

Maryland's best chance in the half came when Costanzo served a ball into the box for King. The pass found him in the box and King headed it towards goal, but Kocic made the diving save.

The only shot in the two overtime periods belonged to Loyola a minute into the second extra session. Correa served the ball into the box where two Greyhounds were with a pair of Terp defenders on them. The Maryland defense was able to block a pair of shots before they got anywhere to thwart the attack, setting up for the penalty shootout.

VS. BRADLEY

NCAA SWEET 16

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The No. 19 Maryland men's soccer team lost to Bradley, 3-2, in the NCAA Tournament Third Round on December 1 at Ludwig Field. The Terrapins dominated most of the match and held late a 2-0 lead, but the Braves scored twice in the last three minutes and then scored the game-winner in the 109th minute for the win.

Maryland came out and dominated the first half with as they fired off 14 shots to Bradley's two. The Terps almost got on the board less than 10 minutes in when junior Michael Marchiano found freshman Rodney Wallace on the left side of the field. Wallace sent a low pass into the box to sophomore Jeremy Hall who redirected the shot from point blank range, but Mike Haynes made the stop.

The Terps' attack broke through in the 17th minute when senior Spencer Allen sent a long ball from the back line towards the box. A Bradley defender elected to try and clear the ball instead of letting it go to the keeper, and his attempt went right to senior Stephen King. King found a streaking Wallace to his left who finished it off to give Maryland the 1-0 lead.

Junior Graham Zusi came inches away from tacking on the second score with 19 minutes left in the half when a Bradley defender headed a ball back towards the keeper. Zusi got to the ball first though and with the keeper challenging, Zusi pushed a shot that barely missed to the left.

In the 28th minute, sophomore Drew Yates was fouled on the left side of the box. Zusi stood over the ball for the free kick and sent a pass into the box. Sophomore Omar Gonzalez made a run and was left all alone, and he headed a ball into the back of the net to push the lead to 2-0.

Maryland continued to control the game in the second half until the scrappy Bradley team started to create some chances in the last 20 minutes. The Braves first real chance came with 19:38 left in regulation when Chris Cutshaw made a move to get open in front of the box. Freshman keeper Will Swaim came off his line to cut off the angle and Cutshaw flicked a shot over Swaim and the net.

Bradley kept pressing and it finally broke through in the 88th minute when a pass was sent into the box. A group of players surrounded the ball and out of the scrum Drew DeGurian came up with a shot that reached the back of the net to cut the lead in half.

Momentum seemed to shift towards the Braves as they kept pressing and with 37 seconds left they notched the tying goal. The two teams got into another scramble in the box with both sides trying to head the ball and Cutshaw finally got a clean shot and he scored to force overtime.

Both teams had a great scoring chance in the first overtime as Justin Bigelow found some space about 22 yards out. He fired a shot past Swaim, but it nailed the crossbar and away from danger. The Terps had their chance when Zusi set up for a corner kick. His in-swinger found Gonzalez in the box who headed a shot at Haynes, but his quick reaction kept the ball out of the net.

King came inches away from the game-winning goal in the second overtime when he blasted a shot from 25 yards out that sailed just high.

The game-winner came in the 109th minute when Paul Tracy handled the ball on the left side. He sent a cross into the box where Cutshaw was making a run and he redirected it. The ball went to the right side and went in to complete the Bradley comeback.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

DEEP ROOTS, BROAD IMPACT

Charles Benedict Calvert founded the Maryland Agricultural College in 1856 with the goal of creating a school that would offer outstanding practical knowledge to him and his neighbors and be "an institution superior to any other."

One hundred and fifty-two years later, the University of Maryland has blossomed from its roots as the state's first agricultural college and one of America's original land grant institutions into a model of the modern research university. It is the state's greatest asset for its economic development and its future, and has made its mark in the nation and the world.

Calvert would be astounded by the depth and breadth of research activities, innovative educational programs, and the single-minded pursuit of excellence that are part of the University of Maryland today. Maryland is ranked 18th among the nation's top public research universities by U.S. News & World Report, with 31 academic programs in the Top 10 and 86 in the Top 25. It is also ranked No. 37th in the world, according to the Institute of Higher Education at at Shanghai's Jiao Tong University.

Maryland is the state's premier center of research and graduate education and the public institution of choice for undergraduate students of exceptional ability and promise. The faculty includes four Nobel laureates, six Pulitzer Prize winners, a three-time Emmy Award winner, more than 40 members of national academies and scores of Fulbright scholars. The university focuses great attention on the highest academic standards, affordability for all qualified students, and a President's Promise program that guarantees opportunity for extraordinary extracurricular and professional experiences for each student.

It has earned a national reputation for its enriched educational experiences for undergraduates, including such widely imitated living/learning programs as College Park Scholars; Gemstone, a unique program that brings teams of students together from across disciplines to tackle specific technical problems; and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program, sponsored jointly by the A. James Clark School of Engineering and the Robert H. Smith School of Business, and widely recognized as the most successful student entrepreneurship program in the nation.

These programs are guided by outstanding faculty who accomplishments in research abound. Whether the issue Mideast peace, cutting-edge research in nanoscience, hom land security or bioscience advances, Maryland faculty a selected for national leadership and are making news. Ma recent major faculty initiatives receiving significant exter support strengthen our homeland security endeavors—cente for research on agrosecurity and emergency management; i termodal freight transportation security; behavioral and soc analyses of terrorism and responses to terrorism; astrophysi and advanced world climate and weather prediction; and a n tional Center for Advanced Study of Language.

In addition to its academic prowess, Maryland is also hon to the Terrapins, whose athletic achievements are a pere nial source of pride for nearly 250,000 alumni and residents the state. In 2005-2006, the Terrapins brought home nation championships in four sports — men's soccer, field hocke competitive cheer and women's basketball — more than ar university in the nation.

Whether aiming for the skies or pioneering journalism pr grams in China, the University of Maryland is surging ahea Building on the work of outstanding faculty and students, ar with the loyal support of alumni and friends, Maryland is movir aggressively and confidently to a decade that will shine bright than any other in its history.

CALIFORNIA '59
10TH YEAR

In September 1998, C. D. (Dan) Mote, Jr. began his tenure as President of the University of Maryland and Glenn L. Martin Institute Professor of Engineering. He was recruited to lead the University of Maryland to national eminence under a mandate by the state. Since assuming the presidency, he has encouraged an environment of excellence across the University and given new impetus to the momentum generated by a talented faculty and student body. Under his leadership, academic programs have flourished. In 2005, the University was ranked 18th among public research universities, up from 30th in 1998. President Mote has emphasized broad access to the university's model, enriched undergraduate curriculum programs and launched the Baltimore Incentive Awards Program to recruit and provide full support to high school students of outstanding potential who have overcome extraordinary adversity during their lives.

He has spurred the university to lead the state in the development of its high-tech economy, especially in the information and communication, bioscience and biotechnology, and nano-technology sectors. President Mote has greatly expanded the university's partnerships with corporate and federal laboratories and successfully negotiated to bring to the College Park area the first Science Research Park sponsored by the People's Republic of China. Under his leadership, the University has established a research park, The University of Maryland Enterprise Campus, M-Square, located on a 115-acre site adjacent to the University of Maryland/College Park Metro with 3 million square feet of development potential. Among its first tenants are the Center for Advanced Study of Language, a joint venture of the University and Department of Defense, and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's new World Weather and Climate Prediction Center.

During President Mote's second year in office, the University began the largest building boom in its history, with more than $100 million in new projects breaking ground that year. New facilities address every aspect of university life, from the arts to recreation to classrooms and laboratories, and, in creative partnership with the private sector, new residential facilities. Highlights of the construction activity include the stunning Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center; the Comcast Center, a state of the art sports complex; a high tech research greenhouse; and new classrooms for chemistry, computer science, business and engineering. President Mote also led the development of a new Facilities Master Plan for development in the next 20 years, which is noted for its emphasis on environmental stewardship.

Dr. Mote is a leader in the national dialogue on higher education and his analyses of shifting funding models have been featured in local and national media. He has testified on major educational issues before Congress, representing the University and higher education associations on the problem of visa barriers for international students and scholars and on deemed export control issues. He has been asked to serve on a high level National Academies Committee appointed at the request of the Senate Energy Subcommittee of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee to identify challenges to United States leadership in key areas of science and technology and to be a member of the Leadership Council of the National Innovation Initiative, an activity of the Council on Competitiveness. He has served as vice chair of the Department of Defense Basic Research Committee, and is a member of the Council of the National Academy of Engineering. In 2004-2005, he served as President of the Atlantic Coast Conference. In its last ranking in 2002, "Washington Business Forward" magazine counted him among the top 20 most influential leaders in the region.

Prior to assuming the Presidency at Maryland, Dr. Mote served on the University of California, Berkeley faculty for 31 years. From 1991 to 1998, he was Vice Chancellor at Berkeley, held an endowed chair in Mechanical Systems and was President of the UC Berkeley Foundation. He led a comprehensive capital campaign for Berkeley that raised $1.4 B. He earlier served as chair of Berkeley's Department of Mechanical Engineering and led the department to its number one ranking in the National Research Council review of graduate program effectiveness.

Dr. Mote's research lies in dynamic systems and biomechanics. Internationally recognized for his research on the dynamics of gyroscopic systems and the biomechanics of snow skiing, he has produced more than 300 publications, holds patents in the U.S., Norway, Finland and Sweden, and has mentored 56 Ph.D. students. He received a B.S., M.S. and Ph.D. in mechanical engineering from the University of California, Berkeley. President Mote has received numerous awards and honors, including the Humboldt Prize awarded by the Federal Republic of Germany. He is a recipient of the Berkeley Citation, an award from the University of California-Berkeley similar to the honorary doctorate, and was named Distinguished Engineering Alumnus. He has received two honorary doctorates. He is a member of the U.S. National Academy of Engineering and serves on its Council, and is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. He was elected to Honorary Membership in the ASME International, its most distinguished recognition, and is a Fellow of the International Academy of Wood Science, the Acoustical Society of America, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. In Spring 2005, he was named recipient of the 2005 J. P. Den Hartog award by the ASME International Technical Committee on Vibration and Sound to honor his lifelong contribution to the teaching and/or practice of vibration engineering. In Fall 2005, he received the 2005 Founders Award from the National Academy of Engineering in recognition of his comprehensive body of work on the dynamics of moving flexible structures and for leadership in academia.

He and his wife of over 40 years, Patricia Mote, have two married children, Melissa and Adam, and four grandchildren. Patsy Mote has continued her strong support of the arts and is spokesperson for the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center and a member of Prince George's County Arts Commission.

DEBORAH A. YOW

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS • 15TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Deborah A. Yow is in the 15th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. In Yow's 14-plus years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable 16 national championships and graduated student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights among the nation's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her prior election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges and universities in the U.S. and Canada. She serves as the current President of the national Division I-A Athletic Directors Association and is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Football Foundation, as well as the Board of Directors of USA Football and the NCAA Division I Men's Basketball Academic Enhancement Committee.

She has been honored by Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal as one of the 20 most influential people in intercollegiate athletics, was cited in The Chronicle of Higher Education in October 2007 as one of the "Ten Most Powerful People in College Athletics/The Builder" and she has received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration.

Dr. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television. The committee is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television, including multi-year ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities.

Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith's Sports Business Journal "National Forum on the Direction of Intercollegiate Athletics" in New York.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

- Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization with 27 sports and more than 700 student-athletes.
- Balanced all 14 of the department's annual budgets (none of the budgets were balanced in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget now approaches $60 million annually and the $51 million debt which her administration inherited has been reduced to $7.6 million.
- Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student-athletes at Maryland. Academic outcomes and student-athlete welfare have received consistent and focused attention.
- Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the upper 7 percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.
- Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.
- Continued to dramatically improve venues and facilities for the department's 27 teams. The 18,000-seat Comcast Center for men's and women's basketball and other sports that use the facility is a prime example of the remarkable $250 million upgrade of athletic facilities.
- Implemented a strategic management model.
- Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.
- Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

- Maryland captured a remarkable seven national championships during the past three seasons.
- In the recent academic year, the Terrapins achieved the highest student-athlete graduation rate in the history of Maryland athletics and had the highest graduation rate of any public institution in the Atlantic Coast Conference.
- Fundraising for Maryland athletics set a historic mark of $24.7 million in 2006-07.
- Maryland was selected by U.S. News & World Report and Sports Illustrated as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).
- In 2005-06, Maryland Athletics won the inaugural PRISM Award as the best-managed Division I collegiate athletics program in the nation.
- Maryland was ranked as the sixth-finest athletic program in the nation by the Center for the Study of Intercollegiate Athletics, based on comprehensive criteria such as graduation rates, financial efficiency, equity effectiveness and competitive excellence.
- In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference title over Duke in the championship game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002. Under Coach Gary Williams, the men's basketball team appeared in 11 consecutive NCAA Tournaments and in 12 of the last 15 tournaments.
- Women's basketball won the 2006 NCAA National Championship under head coach Brenda Frese, completing an amazing turnaround that saw the program go from a 10-18 record to a National Championship in four seasons.
- In football, the Terps won the 2001 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed that with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, again followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. In the 2006 season, Maryland returned to the bowl scene, where the Terps defeated Purdue, 24-7, in the Champs Sports Bowl, and in 2007 was selected to play Oregon State in the Emerald Bowl in San Francisco. Graduation rates in football are exemplary and the program was recently recognized by the American Football Coaches Association for its academic excellence under Coach Ralph Friedgen.
- Additionally, Maryland is one of only three universities in the nation to win National Championships in men's basketball, women's basketball and football. Stanford and UCLA are the other NCAA Division I institutions to achieve that mark.
- Set an ACC single-game record for women's basketball attendance by drawing 17,950 to a regular-season game at Comcast Center and led the ACC in season attendance.
- Hired Dave Cottle, the sixth-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in three of his first four seasons.
- Field hockey earned National Championships in 2005-06 and in 2006-07, and has become a perennial participant in the Final Four in that sport.
- In women's lacrosse, hired Cathy Reese, who was named the 2007 ACC Coach of the Year in her first season as coach of the Terps.
- Men's soccer has appeared in four Final Fours in the past six years and won the NCAA National Championship.
- Football facilities have been significantly enhanced with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades. The Football Academic Center was the first improvement, as it took priority over all other initiatives.
- In 2006-07, 16 Maryland teams competed in postseason play.
- The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 14 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the Top 5 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart... to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). In 2002, she also brought to the University of Maryland Brenda Frese, who at that time was the National Coach of the Year in women's basketball. Four years later, Frese led the Terrapins to the NCAA National Championship at the Women's Final Four in Boston.

Dr. Yow is known as "a coach's A.D.," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator and leader.

A successful former basketball coach, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as A.D. at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States. She holds a bachelor's degree from Elon University, a masters degree from Liberty University and a doctorate (honorus causa) from the U.S. Sports Academy and an honorary doctorate for career achievement from Elon University.

Summing up the entire Maryland athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls 'the three A's of the University -- Academics, the Arts and Athletics'. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

ACADEMIC SUPPORT AND CAREER DEVELOPMENT

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Anton Goff, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Laura Meckley works with the Maryland men's soccer team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and a graduate assistant. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house recently. It features offices for two counselors, a program coordinator and three learning specialists; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

MARYLAND GAMEPLAN

The Maryland Gameplan is intended to assist graduating Terrapin student-athletes as they begin the job search process. It is distributed to more than 500 corporations and businesses across the country, in addition to being featured on the M Club website. Prospective employers are introduced to our graduating student-athletes with resume information relative to academic, career and personal achievements. The Maryland Gameplan directory is produced annually in collaboration with the M Club.

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume- writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) CHAMPS/Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a comprehensive and balanced system of "life learning" programs promoted for use by each varsity sport team.

Highlights of the CHAMPS/Life Skills Programs:

- Support efforts of every student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation
- Use athletics as preparation for success in life
- Meet the changing needs of student-athletes
- Promote respect for diversity among student-athletes
- Enhance interpersonal relationships in the lives of student-athletes
- Assist student-athletes in building positive self-esteem
- Enable student-athletes to make meaningful contributions to their communities
- Promote ownership by the student-athletes of their academic, athletic, personal and social responsibilities
- Enhance partnerships between the NCAA, member institutions and their communities for the purpose of education
- Encourage the development of leadership skills

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS COMMITMENT STATEMENTS

Commitment to Academic Excellence

To support the academic progress of the student-athlete toward intellectual development and graduation.

Commitment to Athletic Excellence

To build philosophical foundations for the development of athletic programs that are broad-based, equitable and dedicated to the well-being of the student-athlete.

Commitment to Personal Development

To support the development of a well-balanced lifestyle for student-athletes, encouraging emotional well-being, personal growth and decision-making skills.

Commitment to Career Development

To encourage the student-athlete to develop and pursue career and life goals.

Commitment to Service

To engage student-athletes in service to his/her campus and surrounding communities.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT FOR RETURNING ATHLETES PROGRAM

The Academic Support for Returning Athletes Program was created in 1986 to support the academic efforts of former varsity student-athletes at the University of Maryland, College Park. In 1989, ASRAP was assigned by the President's Office to the Academic Achievements Program and enrolled 40 students that year. As a member of the National Consortium for Academics and Sports (NCAS), the University of Maryland is committed to assisting its former athletes with degree completion. A key component of the program is community outreach. Each returning student completes a "workship" that allows the cost of tuition and fees to be exchanged for community services with youth. In 2002, ASRAP moved into the ASCDU.

MEDIA INFORMATION

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Ludwig Field may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Jodi Fick in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7064. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland Athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home game. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 2725 of Comcast Center, which is available upon request. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

Terps on the Web: For up-to-date game stories, statistics, schedules and results, and other Maryland athletic department information, please locate www.umterps.com on the Internet.

CHRIS BOYER

SENIOR ASSOCIATE AD/ADMINISTRATION
MEN'S SOCCER SUPERVISOR

Chris Boyer returned to his alma mater in the summer of 2006 to serve the Terrapins as senior associate athletics director for administration.

In that role, Boyer is responsible for overseeing men's & women's soccer, wrestling, softball, the Maryland Gridiron Network, the M Club, the Maryland Walk of Fame and partnering with the Chief of Staff on special projects and research on behalf of the department, as well as serving in a key administrative role for internal operations.

He came to Maryland after five-plus years at Northwestern University. He began there in April 2001 as an assistant A.D. for marketing and sponsor services, and was promoted in July 2004 to associate A.D. for external affairs. In that role, he assisted with developing Northwestern Athletics' long-range strategic plan, while also overseeing Marketing, Media Services, and five of the department's 19 teams.

Boyer has also served at CSTV Online, Villanova University and at West Virginia University.

Boyer earned his bachelor of arts in journalism with a concentration in public relations from Maryland in 1996. He was a Francis Scott Key Scholar at Maryland. He then moved on to West Virginia, where he earned a masters in sports management.
